Voters Approve FVTI Bonding by 3-1 Ratio

Only Calumet, Shawano In Nine-County District Opposed $6 Million Issue

A $6 million bond issue to construct the Fox Valley Technical Institute (FVTI) was approved 3-1 Tuesday by the voters of Vocational, Technical and Adult Education District 12 (VTE-12).

The vote in the special election was 12,527 for bonding and 4,722 against. A few precincts in the district had not reported their votes yet this morning.

VTE-12 officials estimated that there are about 170,000 registered voters in the district. Tuesday's vote represented about 10 per cent of that figure.

In a breakdown by the nine counties in the district, Calumet County opposed the issue, with a 442-593 vote, as did the small portion of Shawano County, with a 28-69 vote. Calumet is one of the four major counties in the district.

reported no votes; Waushara, 8-12.

In a glance through the figures, it was apparent that the issue received its major support in the cities, causing Dominic Bordini, head of research and planning, to say that "apparently we now have the responsibility to these people in the outlying areas. We must see to it that they understand the school and that we give them the programs they want and need."

Appleton Turnout

As could be expected, the best turnout was in Appleton. Of the 23,000 plus eligible voters, 5,003, or 22 per cent, went to the polls, casting 4,362 yes votes and 641 no votes.

It was Appleton's Mayor, George Buckley who forced the

7-1 Vote

Outagamie County, however, voted almost 7-1 in favor of the bonds, with 7,634 casting yes votes and 1,286, no. Winnebago also approved it with 3,477 to 2,019, as did Waupaca with 1,462 for and 787 against.

The district includes most of Outagamie, Waupaca, Calumet, and Winnebago counties and portions of Brown, Manitowoc, Shawano, Waushara and Portage counties.

Brown approved the issue 12-3; Manitowoc, 2-0; Portage, for and 739 against.

Two Attorneys In Calley Case To Go to My Lai

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Army attorneys for both sides in the case against Lt. William L. Calley will go to Vietnam in January to conduct their own on-the-spot investigation of the alleged My Lai massacre. Army sources said Tuesday night.

The sources said the trip by the prosecutor, Capt. Aubrey W. Daniel, and Maj. Kenneth Raby, Calley's military defense counsel, will be made about Jan. 1. They said the two will return "in time" for a Jan. 20 hearing at Ft. Benning on a defense motion to dismiss charges against Calley.

Calley is charged with murdering 109 Vietnamese civilians in the My Lai raid of March 16, 1968, and with slaying another Vietnamese civilian six weeks before the My Lai incident.

The Jan. 20 hearing before the military judge in the case, Lt. Col. Reid Kennedy, is for presentation of arguments on a defense motion charging that Calley could not receive a fair military trial because of publicity and because of prejudicial statements by President Nixon and Secretary of the Army Stanley Resor.

Kopechne Autopsy Request Refused in Pennsylvania

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — A judge refused today to order an exhumation and autopsy on the body of Mary Jo Kopechne, the 23-year-old secretary who died last summer in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's automobile.

Judge Bernard C. Brominski testimony at a hearing on the petition by a Massachusetts prosecutor supported the original finding—death by drowning.

The decision clears the way for a Massachusetts court to order an exhumation and autopsy on the body of Kopechne, who was found dead in the middle of the night on July 18.

Victory for Parents

The ruling was a victory for Mary Jo's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Kopechne of Berkeley Heights, N.J. They opposed an autopsy on grounds it would be "grossly offensive and prejudicial to their wishes."

"This means that I'll come up here very often to see my daughter," Mrs. Kopechne told a news conference at the court presented to this court their objections are well taken.

The judge also said that the presence of blood in Miss Kopechne's nose and mouth and on her clothing, as brought out by Dinis at the hearing Oct. 20-21, did not provide sufficient doubt to warrant exhumation.

Father Happy

The father said he was happy with the ruling and the scheduled inquest did not disturb him.

Boyle Waiting

And in Edgartown, Mass., District Court Judge James A. Boyle before whom the inquest was to be held, was unavailable for comment. His clerk said Boyle might not have anything to say for some time. Boyle had declined to set a date for the inquest until after Brominski had ruled on the autopsy.

Cause of Death

He said any conflict in Kennedy's versions of what happened in the accident was made by Kennedy's lawyers.

Kennedy did not appear at the autopsy hearings in Wilkes-Barre nor was he present today. In the days that followed the accident and Kennedy's television explanation of it, the senator said that he had been given a vote of confidence by the voters and said he would remain in office and seek re-election in 1970. But he said he would not seek the Democratic presidential nomination in 1972.

Loopholes in Draft Lottery to be Plugged

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has ordered a study of loopholes that could turn the new draft lottery system into a giant chess game with unmanageable pawns.

A White House source said staff members of the National Security Council, Defense Department and Selective Service have been asked to consider whether the acknowledged loopholes in the system "will be a real problem and, if so, what to do about it."

The most obvious loophole allows a deferred man, in some cases, to choose the year he is exposed to the draft—presumably a year when his lottery number is unlikely to come up—by deliberately dropping his deferment in that year.

Hershey Aide

Col. Bernard T. Franck, an aide to draft Director Lewis B. Hershey, said some of the Selective Service System's legal experts think a college student, for example, could not give up his student deferment simply upon his own request, while remaining a student.

But Franck said he did not know whether this interpretation had ever been put to the test.

And even if it holds up, he conceded, it would not prevent a man from dropping his deferment by actually dropping out of school or quitting an essential job.

Possibilities

"They are kicking around a number of things," the White House source said, of the loophole study, "of which that is one."

Still another flaw is the reverse case of a man classified I-A who seeks a deferment when it looks as if his number is getting hot. If he gets the deferment—and the local board may have no choice if he qualifies—he leaves the draft pool.

He would not be exposed to the draft again, White House all, and Selective Service sources agreed, until he once more entered the I-A pool.

Franck said a local board could prevent a man from jumping in and out of I-A at will by refusing, somewhere along the line, to reconsider his classification.

Play the Numbers

But even with that limitation, some draftable men may try to "play the numbers," as draft-minded authorities now phrase it.

When President Nixon last month established the lottery system based on birthdays drawn at random, a White House fact sheet estimated about half the available men would be dated in 1970. Because of differences between local boards, each applying the lottery list to its own draft pool, the actual numbers reached will vary.

The White House offered, cautiously, a rule of thumb: Among the lottery numbers ranging from one to 366, men in the lowest one-third would be virtually certain to be drafted; men in the middle third would have to wait and see; and men in the upper third would be relatively safe from the draft.

Reach Higher

Some local boards may have to reach higher than halfway up the list, a Pentagon manpower expert pointed out, because some of their deferred men, due back into I-A in 1970, may be still in the processing "pipeline" at the end of the year. Boards with men in the pipeline might have to reach higher to meet their draft quotas.

How much higher, he said, can not be predicted.

It is also possible, he said, that a local board might have a lopsided distribution of lottery numbers within its own pool—just by chance, say, almost no men with low numbers. In that case, it would just have to call men with high numbers instead. But the odds are against it.

Still, the White House estimates could be thrown off, perhaps seriously, by the very fact they were made at all.

550,000 Men

They rest on the Pentagon's estimate that it will have to obtain—somehow—about 550,000 draft-eligible men in 1970.

The Pentagon expects 290,000 to enlist voluntarily, leaving 260,000 to be drafted.

If the number of enlistments falls short, the size of the draft must rise, for somehow they have to add up to 550,000.

The number of men needed, remains unchanged, and so does the number of men available.

But the question then becomes: From what part of the lottery list will they come?

Men with low numbers, almost certain to be drafted, may enlist instead so they can choose their branch of service; men with high numbers who might otherwise have enlisted, may decide they don't have to after

Change Line-Up

Should this occur in large concentrations—in other words, should the enlistment rolls be filled with low-numbered men—those with middle to high numbers could unexpectedly find themselves at the front of the line for the draft.

Add to this possibility the loopholes opened up by the manipulation of deferment status, and you have a whole new chess game—one in which the pawns can choose moves they never had before.

And you have elements of uncertainty never intended by the designers of a plan aimed at ending the "agony of suspense."

The key fact remains, as Nixon intended, that a man who reaches the end of any year in I-A status, without having been drafted, can consider himself relatively safe.

Although officials expressed some disappointment with the small turnout, all were happy with the results.

"I am very, very pleased with the support given to the total program and the confidence expressed by the people in the board and our plans for a

Nixon Opposes Measure

Import Quota Amendment Added to Tax Reform Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate added to the tax reform bill today an amendment opposing a tax cut.

The quota fight erupted Tuesday, dimming the hopes of some Senate leaders for a speedy final vote. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said afterwards that amendments were coming so fast he didn't know when the measure will pass.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., GOP floor manager for the bill, said, however, he feels the 12-day-old floor battle was almost over.

Williams charged a "deliberate attempt" is being made to defeat the measure by overloading it and forcing President Nixon to threaten a veto.

"There are some people around here who just don't want (tax) reform," Williams told a newsman before the start of today's session.

He declined to level blame at any particular senators or even to impose restrictions on the export of U.S. goods to that nation.

The administration, in urging a defeat of the amendment, said it did not provide for a thorough study so the President could develop such questions in an objective way.

The amendment is strongly opposed by the Nixon administration. Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans urged its defeat in a letter to Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., floor manager for the tax bill.

The letter said the proposal made no provision for a thorough investigation prior to action by the President.

Marion Youths Die in Freak Road Accident

Pair Killed While Riding on Toboggan Behind Automobile

BIG FALLS — Two Marion teen-agers were killed about 9:30 p.m. Tuesday when the toboggan they were riding slid into the path of a car on Waupaca County Trunk E, about two miles northwest of here.

Dead are Gene Arndt, 16, route 1, and William Hilley, 15, route 1, Marion.

A third youth riding the toboggan, James Aderman, 18, route 1, Marion, was taken to Clintonville Community Hospital and then transferred to The increasing Social Security benefits at Clark Hospital, Neenah. He was listed in critical condition this morning.

Fourth Youth

A fourth youth, Wayne Helms, 17, route 2, Tigerton, reportedly escaped without serious injury.

Authorities reported the three were being pulled on the toboggan by a pick-up truck driven by Stephen N. Pockat, 16, route 1, Marion. They were traveling north on E.

Ronald E. Christjohn, 27, Tigerton, driver of the car, said the toboggan swerved into his southbound lane after he had passed the pickup. Helms, who reportedly was riding in the front of the toboggan, apparently saw the Christjohn's headlights and jumped clear, trying to drag the toboggan into the ditch.

Authorities said the toboggan slid into Christjohn's lane as it was going around a curve.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

Apollo 12 Crew Being Released From Isolation

Confinement Ends Early When Tests Show No Microbes

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The isolation of quarantine is the price an astronaut pays for landing on the moon, says Charles Conrad, Jr., the third man to walk the lunar surface. The Apollo 12 spacemen finish paying that price today—they walk outside on earth for the first time in almost a month.

Conrad, Alan L. Bean and Richard F. Gordon Jr. will be released from the quarantine of the Lunar Receiving Laboratory 27 days after they boarded their spacecraft for a trip to the moon.

The astronauts are being released a little early. Their planned 21-day quarantine—which started Nov. 20 after the moonwalk of Conrad and Bean—would not end until 5:30 a.m. (EST) Thursday.

But the Interagency Committee on Back Contamination, which controls the duration of quarantine, was satisfied that blood tests had shown them to be totally free of any possible moon microbes.

So the end of quarantine was advanced to Wednesday afternoon, permitting the spacemen to rejoin their families at a more reasonable hour.

Also included in the earlier release were:

—Seven scientists and four technicians who joined the quarantine when they were accidentally exposed to moon dust in a laboratory Dec. 1.

—Sixteen cooks, technicians and housekeeping crew members who had been assigned to share the astronauts' isolation from the start.

After Splashdown
The astronauts arrived at the Lunar Receiving Laboratory Nov. 29 in the silver isolation van they entered aboard the splashdown recovery ship USS Hornet in the Pacific Nov. 24.

Those in quarantine had been sealed away from the world in their laboratory quarters, breathing air filtered both on entry and exit.

Table tennis, billiards and nightly movies palled. Conrad worked on a hi-fi kit. Bean read books, mostly on space flight.

They could talk with their families only by telephone and see them only through a glass wall.

The Apollo 12 quarantine may be the last, since no moon bugs have turned up and most scientists believe there is no form of lunar life.

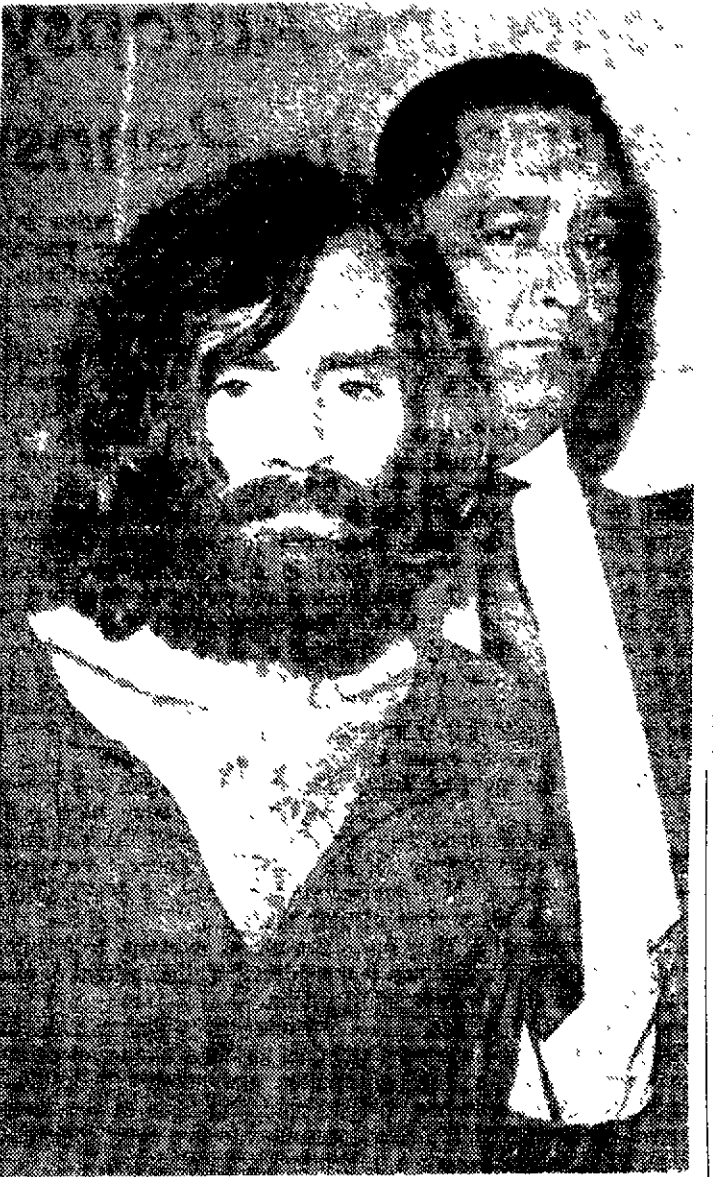

If so, the Apollo 13 astronauts, who are scheduled to fly in March, will be spared the most boring aspect of the lunar adventure business.

Boyle Claims Victory In Miners' Election

Pentagon Cuts B52 Force In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is pulling the equivalent of two squadrons of B52 bombers out of the air war in Southeast Asia.

According to Air Force officers, 30 stratofortresses will be returned to the United States to rejoin the strategic bomber force or to be used in training assignments.

The removal comes at a time when North Vietnam is stepping up infiltration into South Vietnam at a rate tentatively estimated at about 20,000 men a month.

Infiltration routes have been a prime target of the B52s. The action leaves the United States with three B52 squadrons in Southeast Asia, plus dozens of smaller fighter-bombers that can be used in the air war.

Pentagon Decision
Defense spokesmen say the cutback reflects in part a Pentagon decision earlier this year to scale down the big bomber missions as a means of saving money.

Each B52 flight costs about $50,000. The pullout also appeared possible in view of the lowered enemy activity just prior to the upsurge in infiltration of the last few weeks.

According to Pentagon officers, Army Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, U.S. commander in Vietnam, originally frowned upon giving up some of the B52 missions, which he considered one of the big weapons in the war.

But Abrams went along with the reduction.

Vietnamese Armed Forces Increased by 88,000 Men

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government announced today that its armed forces have increased by about 88,000 men during the past six months, a factor presumably in the third withdrawal of American troops President Nixon will announce later this month.

The government said its forces total about 1,090,000 men under arms, compared to about 1,002,000 six months ago.

A spokesman gave this approximate breakdown: army 374,000; navy 28,000; air force 32,000; marines 11,000; regional forces 252,000; popular forces 178,000; paramilitary forces including national police, civilian irregulars and revolutionary development (pacification) cadre, 215,000.

The figures showed a 6,000-man decrease in South Vietnam's regular army, but a spokesman said this was only a "fluctuation." Navy strength increased by 5,000, the air force was up 12,000, and the marines gained 2,000 men.

The biggest gains, however, were in the militia—the regional, popular and paramilitary forces. The regional forces increased 32,000, the popular forces 8,000 and paramilitary forces 35,000.

Militiamen of the regional and popular forces have been hit hard by recent enemy attacks, especially in the Mekong Delta. Regional force companies operate under the control of each province chief, with orders to fight local Viet Cong guerrillas and destroy their political infrastructure. Popular force platoons, which defend their own villages and hamlets, have a higher casualty rate than any other element of the South Vietnamese armed forces.

Desertion Rate
The South Vietnamese military command would not disclose how many of the 1,090,000 troops are now carried on the rolls as deserters. But the most recent informal, unofficial estimates said the desertion rate this year has been running about two per cent, or a little more than 20,000.

President Nguyen Van Thieu said today that the South Vietnamese "cannot be so craven as to ask the United States to continue fighting the Communists for us."

Thieu, discussing the withdrawal of American troops, said the national situation is brighter than three or four years ago and that his armed forces are growing stronger.

Nixon told a news conference Monday night he would announce another troop cut "with a replacement by South Vietnamese later this month." He said the number was still under consideration, but Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird has reportedly said the third reduction would be 40,000 men or less. Sixty thousand American troops have been withdrawn from Vietnam in the last six months.

'Family' Leader Taken to Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Kasabian, 20; and Leslie Sankston, 19, Manson will be arraigned Thursday.

Meanwhile, Detective Lt. Karl Deemer told newsmen police were studying a "possible similarity" between knife-gunshot killings with which the cult members are charged and two other deaths.

The 35-year-old leader of a communal clan he calls "the Deemer referred to the slaying of Doreen Gaul, 19, and James Sharp, 15, whose bodies were found in a Los Angeles alleyway Nov. 4. Each had been stabbed 50 to 60 times and their eyes were slashed.

Three women indicted with Miss Gaul and Sharp belonged to a cult called "The Process" and "The Final Church of Judgment." They are Susan Denise Atkins, 21; Linda question at least two male members of the Manson group about the Gaul-Sharp killings.

Manson, slight of stature, was dwarfed by the two lanky homicide detectives who escorted him to the Los Angeles jail Tuesday night from Independence, the Inyo County seat.

He seemed surprised at the huge assemblage of U.S. and foreign newsmen.

With his reddish-brown hair falling tangled over his shoulders and his black beard glinting in the bright television camera lights, Manson stood mute as the journalists fired questions above loud police demands of "no questions, please!"

Hands handcuffed behind him, Manson was taken to a freight elevator, whisked upstairs, booked and jailed.

The Inyo County charges stem from allegations that the Manson clan stole cars and converted them into "dune buggies" able to travel over sand. The last habitation of the cult was on the edge of Death Valley.

Manson was indicted Monday along with Miss Atkins, Charles D. Watson, 24, Patricia Krenwinkel, 21, and Mrs. Kasabian on murder-conspiracy charges in the mass slayings last Aug. 9 of Miss Tate and four others.

The same five, plus Miss Sankston, also were indicted in the deaths the following night of wealthy Hollywood market owner Leno LaBianca and his wife Rosemary. Miss Sankston is not charged in connection with the Tate slayings.

The Handling of a Major Fire

The Post-Crescent recently completed a six-part series on consolidation of police and fire services, an issue that has been raised in many Fox Valley cities, including Appleton and more recently, Neenah.

Proponents of police-fire combination, a measure aimed at cutting public service costs, might well have gotten an insight into how such a combination would have functioned by observing activities at a major warehouse fire near downtown Appleton last Friday.

The basic plan in many cities having consolidation is to reduce fire department manpower by assigning fire fighting duties to a large number of policemen. A fight fire. Hoses were stretched across policeman is a policeman until there is a fire. Then he sheds his uniform and jumps into high boots, a hardhat and a raincoat. He's then a fire fighter.

The Post-Crescent reporter who wrote the consolidation series traveled to Peoria, Ill., a city of 135,000 population where fire department officials say consolidation has reduced manpower to the extent that it has hampered their efforts at major fires. The reporter also traveled to Elgin, Ill., where consolidation was abandoned because there were too many functional problems.

Some of these problems could be appreciated as one watched fire fighters and policemen at work at Appleton's fire, the biggest here in four years. There was a delayed alarm to the fire department because workmen tried to extinguish the blaze themselves. So, by the time the fire department arrived, a big portion of the warehouse was engulfed in flames.

But there was a worse problem. Four huge tanks containing 74,000 gallons of gasoline and fuel oil stood only a few feet from the burning warehouse. Flames and black smoke licked around the tanks which, had they ruptured, would have resulted in publication of a six-part series on consolidation of police and fire services, an issue that has been raised in many Fox Valley cities, including Appleton and more recently, Neenah.

At the peak of the fire, 80 firefighters, more than half of them called from off duty, fought the blaze and kept cool water pouring onto the big fuel tanks. There were no firefighters standing around. There wasn't time. Some of them worked for hours without a break. Some of them stopped only long enough for a couple breaths of pure oxygen, then they returned to work.

Nor did policemen stand around doing nothing. And they didn't have time to help a fight fire. Hoses were stretched across busy downtown streets, including West College Avenue, necessitating the placing of several policemen at key intersections for traffic control work. It's the Christmas shopping season. Downtown Appleton was busy. It got busier as the curious started heading for the fire scene.

Police also were kept busy hustling people far back from the fire, a measure needed because of the high danger of explosion. Several high police officials, including captains and even an inspector, were pressed into duty at the fire scene.

Fire fighters and policemen did their job, and they did it well. The fire was confined to the warehouse. The tanks did not explode. Heavy traffic were kept moving and no spectators got close enough to the fire to be in danger of being injured.

We can't help but ask ourselves if this would have been the case had Appleton's police and fire ranks been crippled by manpower shortages at such a critical time. The fire could well have served as an example of how badly Appleton needs. deserves and must have the full services of both its fire and police departments.

Justice for the Eskimos

Another minority group is being heard from this time the 60,000 Alaskan Indian and Eskimo natives who want a slice of the vast oil wealth being uncovered in Alaska. Despite what may be Interior Secretary Walter Hickel's conflict of interest in the matter, the natives seem on their way to success.

The ambiguity about Mr. Hickel's position involves two different corporations. He had a $900,000 stock interest in the Texas-based Alaska Interstate which is making plans to build an 800 mile pipeline to bring the oil south. Reportedly he sold the interest but he has not said to whom or for how much. Then an Anchorage Corporation owns a building which is leased by one of the oil companies participating in the North Slope development and planning a million dollar addition. Contractor for the addition is Hickel Investment Corporation. The vice president of the Anchorage corporation, 700 Building Inc., is also vice president of Hickel Investment Corporation. The vice president of the Anchorage corporation, 700 Building Inc., is also vice president of Hickel Investment Corporation. The vice president of the Anchorage corporation, 700 Building Inc., is also vice president of Hickel Investment Corporation.

Under the law by which Alaska became a state, it was permitted to lay claim to 103,000,000 acres of public lands. It has carefully and wisely laid claim so far to lands which are rich in oil. Leases of a mere 900,000 acres last fall brought the state $12,000,000. As Governor, Mr. Hickel picked some 3,000,000 more acres for the state just south of those now leased.

There is nothing wrong in all of this so far. But the Indians and the Eskimos are now demanding their share. They want a 2 per cent royalty on all oil from state lands for 10 years and on federal lands for 20 years. They also want something between 10,000,000 and 40,000,000 million acres of lands for their own use.

Currently the natives hold fee simple title to only 500 acres and they point out that many of the lands declared as uninhabited by the state when it took them over where their traditional hunting and fishing grounds. The plight of the Indians and Eskimos is serious. Most live in miserable shacks, there is a high incidence of illness, life expectancy is only 34 years and annual average income only $2,000 as compared to $10,000 for the white man. Like all people of different cultures, the Alaskan natives have had difficulty trying to adjust to the white man's world. It is the story all over again of most American Indian tribes in the forty-eight states. Former U. S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark, now employed by the recently organized Alaska Federation of Natives, says that "resolution of the claims of the native Alaskan people to the vast northlands that largely remain their home will be the last chapter in a long, sad history.... Now comes Alaska and an historic opportunity... This last chapter must be the best."

We must hope that Secretary Hickel does not have conflicting interests to the welfare of the Alaskan natives.

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Dec. 5, 1869.

The Green Bay Gazette contains the following sensible proposition in reference to the nearly civilized people who inhabit a reserve partly located in our own and in Brown County:

"The government, through a commission, should buy up at fair valuation the land and the improvements of the Oneidas — bring it into the market and allow such of the natives as desire, to purchase it and become citizens. The remainder should be moved to new and unoccupied territory in the Far West.

An effort is now being made to induce the Oneidas to part with a portion of their Reserve to accommodate the Stock-bridges, but we earnestly hope it will not succeed.

Let them all become citizens, or go West. That's where we stand."

Kraft Writes

Congress Basically Incapable Of Writing Sound Tax Laws

BY JOSEPH KRAFT

WASHINGTON — The famous principle that "the power to tax is the power to destroy" was applied with a vengeance last week by the Senate. And as matters now stand, there is a strong case for a Presidential veto of the tax bill.

There is an even stronger case for more drastic action. It is now clear that taxes are too complicated and sensitive a matter to be decided in detail by the Congress. The country needs a system that gives the President limited discretion to change taxes subject to Congressional veto. To understand the gravity of what has happened, it must be emphasized that the tax bill this year is a reform bill — the first comprehensive reform of the Federal tax structure in at least 15 years. The financial captains of the Congress, accordingly, were not just whacking up another bill. They were on their mettle to be responsible. They were making history.

Some Loopholes Tightened
To be sure, there is a certain amount of historic loophole-closing in the present bill. The 27.5 per cent oil depletion allowance is cut (to 20 per cent by the House and 23 per cent by the Senate). States and municipalities are encouraged (by the House though not the Senate) to stop issuing tax-free bonds. Limitations are placed (by the House, not the Senate) on the most egregious abuse of the deduction system. The requirements for using the lower rates applicable to capital gains are tightened (more by the House than the Senate).

But the price paid for this modicum of tax reform is staggering. The Congress has given, mainly to high- and middle-income citizens, vast sums of money that the Federal government could have used to achieve social progress and economic stability. The immediate damage may be limited next year because the tax bill includes extension of a 5 per cent surcharge on income tax for six months.

But thereafter the effect is devastating. Under the Senate bill, including the amendment that Albert Gore of Tennessee pushed through on Wednesday, the Treasury would suffer an estimated loss in total revenue of from two to three billion dollars in fiscal 1971. By 1974, the loss would be up to seven to eight billion.

These losses in Federal revenue have an obvious inflationary impact. They feed consumer spending and promote a Federal deficit. But the unkindest cut of all — and the one that is most ironic in view of the liberal Democratic support for the Gore amendment — is what happens to various Federal programs. There is simply not going to be enough Federal money for proper funding of the most important social legislation now on the books — for education, for welfare, for the cities, for fighting water and air pollution, and for crime prevention.

Maybe the worst features of the Senate bill will be eliminated in the conference with the House. Even under the House bill, however, Federal revenues would probably suffer a net loss of six billion dollars as of 1974. Thus with anything worse than the House bill, the President would be justified in a veto.

Veto or not, however, it should be made clear that the wretched Congressional tax performance is not accidental. It does not flow from the supposed tyranny of Wilbur Mills and the Ways and Means Committee. Still less, except for the cosmetics, was the trouble caused by poor Congressional liaison on the part of the Nixon administration.

The central fact is that the Congress is not well-equipped to write detailed tax laws. It is a cumbersome and unwieldy body. It is subject to gusts of passion. Worse still, one set of committees is responsible for spending, and another for raising, the public money. There is no central mechanism for balancing appropriations against revenues. The Congress, in fiscal matters, is a dinosaur — huge body and tiny brain.

The way around the dinosaur has been charted in numerous plans for vesting limited discretionary authority on tax rates with the President subject to later correction by the Congress. One such plan was advanced by the Kennedy and Johnson administrations. Another, if that seems scandalous, was suggested more recently by Herbert Stein, a present member of the Council of Economic Advisers.

But what counts are not the details but the principle. And the principle has been set forward with characteristic force and clarity by a man who remains, for all the stones cast his way, one of the nation's most reliable guides.

"Flexible tax rates," McGee Bundy said in the Godkin lectures of 1968, "are now quite simply indispensable to the effective management of economic policy... The Congress is too big and slow and varied to exercise this power on its own. It should therefore delegate that power to someone, and the President is a better agent than any one Congressman, however honorable and able... In tax policy the Executive Branch is not much too strong, as the disbelievers in modern government tell us, but much too weak."

Wisconsin Report

Junior College Idea Running Headon Into Powerful Opposition

By JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — A long time ago a reporter sat in the hearing room of the Finance Committee of the legislature and wondered about the ease with which the late George Hambrecht, then director of the State Board of Vocational and Adult Education, easily persuaded its members to approve the appropriations he had requested.

Wyngaard

The reporter was young and curious and went around the room afterward asking questions. Other witnesses were questioned closely, he remarked. Why did Mr. Hambrecht have such an easy time? One old time politician explained to the cub.

"Did you notice," he asked, "who flanked him, right and left?"

I had not. My friendly informant pointed out the chief lobbyist of the Wisconsin Manufacturers Association on one side of the official and a bevy of spokesmen for organized labor, on the other. When two of such formidable forces in the Wisconsin economy join in supporting a state agency's budget plea, he explained carefully, even a deaf lawmaker is not likely to miss the point.

Recalled by Proposal
The incident was recalled recently as a result of the emerging struggle before the so-called Kellett Commission on Education for a merger of the vocational schools and the two year liberal arts instructional branches of the state university system out in the state.

Joseph Noll, the Kenosha businessman and chairman of the State Board of Vocational Education, is profoundly angered about the idea.

Mr. Noll may not remember the Hambrecht incident of long ago, but the severity of his words and the confidence he has in his position shows pretty clearly that he has an accurate assessment of the strength of his allies in the forthcoming fight — if it is in fact finally recommended by the Kellett task force.

Joins in Attack
Indeed, the current chairman of the Wisconsin Manufacturers Association joined with him in attacking the plan at the last meeting of the Kellett planning group. It would have required no more than a few telephone calls to muster the top brass of organized labor in opposition also. There is not the slightest doubt that labor will be in the fight if the proposition is seriously pushed or recommended to the legislature.

What the industrial community — and that includes organized labor — fears in such a plan is that it will destroy or dangerously dilute the job training programs of the vocational school system which has often been described as one of the best in the country. It is perhaps a fear well founded at a time of exploding demand for more highly trained employees and the virtual domination of technicians in the production forces of the major corporations.

The idea of transferability of credits from such merged institutions to the four year institutions of higher learning, it can be predicted reasonably, won't be greeted with any cheering by the latter.

Can't Make Choice

The evident assumption of the champions of hybrid technical-liberal arts colleges is that the high school graduate frequently is uncertain or unable to make a career choice at the age of 18. Perhaps. But he has ample opportunities now for trial and error.

Under the new vocational school districting system which embraces all of the population and all of the tax base of the state — and which was probably the most far-reaching educational advance in this state in a couple of generations — every high school student will be able to try himself in a quality technical school. If that proves unsatisfactory, he has easily available to him regular college-level liberal arts instruction opportunities virtually everywhere in Wisconsin.

The Coordinating Council for Higher Education estimates that more than 93 per cent of the high school graduates of the state are within commuting distance of a tax-supported two year campus — leaving private college opportunities out of consideration altogether. Our uncertain high school graduate is entitled to trial and error there, while he is making a final decision about his career aspirations. If he is not satisfied he can retire and try his district school for vocational and technical education.

The sponsors of the merger idea are undoubtedly earnest enough. But they are politically naive about the possibilities of its realization and thus far have failed to make a showing that it is a feasible idea even if it is attainable.

Strictly Personal

Our Education Takes Two Years Too Long

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

We ought to squeeze about two years of water out of the public school system, which is now the most costly and inefficient "business" in American society.

Students entering high school repeat work they should have learned in grammar school, and didn't. Students entering college repeat work they should have learned in high school, and didn't.

This puts everybody a couple of years behind, because the pace of the class is the pace of the slowest. And it makes the bright kids bored and resentful and ready to raise hell by the time they reach college and begin to realize it's just another academic WPA project.

Instead of the draft, we ought to have a year or so of "national service" for every college boy and girl, where they could be doing some necessary work in the real world — as orderlies in hospitals or mental institutions, as helpers in prisons and orphanages, as apprentices in Head Start and anti-poverty programs.

This would give them some of the "relevancy" they are clamoring for. It would also focus their energies on some constructive social purposes (which they are really looking for), instead of permitting them to dissipate their misplaced idealism in wrecking college halls.

Except for the few serious graduate students, college goes on too long, and to little purpose except getting a white-collar "union card" in the way of a degree. As Hutchins recommended decades ago, college-level work should begin in the junior year of high school and continue for four years, through the sophomore year of college.

Then the average student could be given his sheepskin ("to cover his intellectual nakedness," as Hutchins once put it), while the specialists entered their fields of study unimpeded by the mere degree-chasers. This would be a tremendous financial and population burden lifted from the colleges and universities.

Children get older far faster than ever before. They are biologically and socially mature several years ahead of my generation; but they go to school longer than ever before, and rightly become impatient with the sexual, occupational, and social restrictions in their lives. There is too much of a "cultural lag" between what they are able to do and what we have decided to let them do.

Their "revolutionary" fervor should be diverted to creative and productive channels.

Valley Communities Urged To Attend 'Have-Not' Talks

The statewide grassroots ties previously received personal letters from Mayor Maier asking them to attend a statewide "Have-Not Conference" at the Milwaukee Auditorium at 9:30 a.m. Jan. 9.

"In talking with mayors, village presidents and town chairmen in central and northern Wisconsin counties last week, I would have benefitted had the Tarr tax redistribution bill not been killed by the State Senate last month, are being made by a need for property tax relief," Carey said. "Those who cannot attend say there is a need for property tax relief."

Other Waupaca area officials asked to attend the Milwaukee "have-not" conference are: Village Presidents Russell Arndt, Big Falls; Irvin Zimdars, Embarras; Tom Pitt, Fremont; Carl Waller, Iola; Earl Oppor, Ogdensburg; and Mayors Frank Sinkewicz, Clintonville; George Jensen, Manwa; and Sigurd W. Krostue, New London.

Mayor Maier hopes to form an urban-rural coalition to put pressure on the legislature to adopt tax and government reform legislation in January to provide for property tax relief in Wisconsin.

During the next three weeks, representatives of the Milwaukee Department of Fiscal Liaison will have contacted representatives of 749 towns, 269 villages and 134 cities in the state that stand to gain from tax reform.

"The problem of skyrocketing property taxes, pollution, and home rule are considered by Mayor Maier to be just as much rural as urban," Carey said. He added this was one of the messages the "have-not" conference hoped to put across.

There are many cities, villages and towns in their districts — which include this region — that would have benefitted under the Tarr bill and will get tax relief under the new bill (751-S) now pending," Carey said.

It was reported that Appleton intends to send a delegation to the Milwaukee conference, which will also deal with tax relief for the elderly, pollution legislation and home rule.

Outagamie County communities and their elected officials who received letters from Maier, and are being contacted by the Milwaukee representative this week, include the following:

Chairmen Alvin Sasman, Town of Black Creek; Merlin Knorr, Town of Bovina; Joseph DeBruin, Town of Buchanan; Raymond C. Wagner, Town of Cicero; Chris Peeters, Town of Deer Creek; Floyd Van Vreede, Town of Kaukauna; Cecil Carpenter, Town of Maine; Norman Austin, Town of Oneida; Edward Peotter, Town of Osborn; and Norman Helms, Town of Seymour.

Village presidents from the county include Curtis E. Reed, Black Creek; Alvin Fulcer, Kimberly; and Edward Spierings, Little Chute. Also invited to the conference are Mayors George Buckley of Appleton; Gilbert J. Anderson, Kaukauna; and Ivan Dunbar, Seymour.

The list of Calumet County local officials invited to the Milwaukee conference consists of Chairmen Harold Schmitz, Town of Brothertown; Elmer Federwitz, Town of Chilton; Arno Kropf, Town of New Holstein; Glen Ecker, Town of Stockbridge; Mayor Harry L. Thompson, Calumet; and Mayor Albert Breckheimer, Mel.

In Winnebago County those being contacted are Town Chairmen J. Robert O'Reilly, Town of Poygan; John E. Lenz, Town of Ulica; Earl Hoverson, Town of Winchester; Herbert R. Helme, Town of Winneconne; and City Manager Angus Crawford, City of Oshkosh.

The Waupaca County list of invitees is a long one with that area one of the big gainers under the tax reform bill. Contacted are: Town Chairmen Henry Kreklow, Town of Bear Creek; Lester Bork, Town of Dupont; Herbert Mevdam, Town of Fremont; J. F. Sampson, Town of Harrison; Earl Christensen, Town of Helvetia; Alfred Amundson, Town of Iola; Harold Steenbock, Town of Larabee; Kenneth Egan, Town of Lebanon.

Marvin Schoenack, Town of Link; Benjamin W. Ferg, Town of Little Wolf; Walter Stelzner, Town of Royalton; Oscar J. Severson, Town of St. Lawrence; Edgar Fietzer, Town of Union; and Marshall Zaugg, Town of Wyoming.

Other Waupaca area officials asked to attend the Milwaukee "have-not" conference are: Village Presidents Russell Arndt, Big Falls; Irvin Zimdars, Embarras; Tom Pitt, Fremont; Carl Waller, Iola; Earl Oppor, Ogdensburg; and Mayors Frank Sinkewicz, Clintonville; George Jensen, Manwa; and Sigurd W. Mrs. Edmund Facklam, left, a Manawa school teacher, recently receives a certificate at her initiation at Clintonville into the Delta Kappa Gamma, a national organization of women educators. She was among five teachers from Waupaca and Shawano counties initiated in a once-every-two-years ceremony. With her are Mrs. Honor Testin, right, organization president, and Mrs. Ruth Klotzbuecher, secretary.

Voting Requirements Eased Milk Marketing Bill Signed by Knowles

MADISON (AP) — A bill to simplify procedures for obtaining milk marketing orders in Wisconsin was signed Tuesday by Gov. Warren P. Knowles.

The law, which will affect 63,000 Wisconsin milk producers, reduces the number of voters required to approve new marketing orders.

These orders assess producers for funds used in advertising and research.

Under the new procedures, 51 per cent of the producers voting in a referendum must approve the order, with the added requirement that at least 50 per cent of the affected producers must vote.

Under the old regulations, farmers had to register before voting, and of those farmers registered, two-thirds had to favor an order before it could take effect, or votes representing 51 per cent of the state's total milk volume had to be cast for an order.

Industry figures show that Wisconsin produced 18.2 billion pounds of milk in 1968, with a market value of $807 million.

During the same time, the Wisconsin American Dairy Association receipts from the orders were $1 million, most of which went to the national organization for promotion and research.

Proponents of the measure earlier said that confusion over registration was responsible for the defeat of an order last year, but that the new procedures will insure that all producers are included in any referendum.

Considerably below normal precipitation, including less snow, combined with near-average temperatures to make Appleton a pleasant place to be in November.

The combination of rain and melted snow added up to only .48 inch of precipitation for the entire month, 1.66 inches below normal. The 2.3 inches of snow, which fell mostly on Nov. 26, also was below the average — by 1.4 inches. All but .03 inch of the other precipitation fell on two days Nov. 16-17.

Temperatures held true for the time in the area, with the 34.3 degree mean only .5 degrees below what weather statisticians say is normal for Appleton. Nov. 6 was the warmest, when thermometers rose to 60 degrees. The monthly low of seven clear days, 13 that were cloudy, was shared by the 14th and partly cloudy and 10 cloudy.

Heating days, too, held to the normal, with November's 912 total only two above. However, the cumulative total for the year reached 1689, 99 above normal, by the end of November.

Asphyxiation Called Cause Of Girl's Death

GREEN BAY (AP) — Pathologist Dr. John Draheim of Green Bay testified Tuesday Margarita Gonzales, 18, of Green Bay, died of asphyxiation, possibility caused by something tied around her mouth and nose.

Dr. Draheim testified at the second degree murder trial of Clifford C. Lindsey, 28, of Green Bay, who is charged in connection with the slaying.

Miss Gonzales' nude body was found Oct. 5 along the shore of Green Bay. The trial is being heard before Circuit Judge Robert Parins.

Teen-Agers Steal Auto

A 17-year-old Appleton boy was placed in juvenile detention in the Outagamie County jail and his 14-year-old girlfriend from New Holstein was released to her parents after they stole a car here early today.

Police said they took a 1959 station wagon owned by Richard Wege, 1113 N. Summit St., from his driveway about 1 a.m. The keys had been left in the auto, which they pushed out of the driveway.

About 3 a.m., an Appleton policeman was behind the station wagon when it struck a utility pole in the 1700 block of W. Rogers Street. The teen-agers fled on foot. The boy later told police he became frightened and ran off the road when he saw the squad car behind him.

While police were searching for the pair, they received a report from a citizen that they were seated in St. Joseph Church. Police took them into custody there. They then informed Wege that his car had been stolen.

The boy, who police said is from route 1, Hilbert, but lives in a foster home here, said he searched until he found a car with keys in the ignition so he could give his girlfriend a ride back to New Holstein.

Ex-Proxmire Aide Receives Jail Sentence

MILWAUKEE — Luther A. Dyb, 44, home secretary to Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., from 1961-1968, was sentenced Tuesday to 30 days in jail and 11 months probation for accepting $750 in unlawful compensation while working as a federal employee.

According to the U. S. attorney's office, Farrell W. Nuss, Construction Co., Green Bay, paid the money to Dyb to get a quick reply on a request for a Small Business Administration loan. The payment allegedly was made in Appleton Oct. 19, 1967.

Grand jury action in which two Appleton residents testified, came as the result of an investigation into a complaint lodged by the company after the application for the loan was rejected.

In his plea Dyb told the court "I may be technically guilty, but I am morally innocent."

Federal Judge Milton L. Gordon pronounced the sentence.

Thomas Berholtz, a laborer, living at 147 N. Elm St., petitioned for liabilities of $12,554, assets of $1,805 and exemptions of $1,325.

of Wisconsin farmers by the National Farm Organization's recently published legislative voting record.

Rogers was rated as voting correctly on 10 key votes pertaining to the corporate farm bill introduced early in the last legislative session. The NFO was also supported by the National Farm Union, the Wisconsin Association of Cooperatives, Pure Milk Products, the Milk Association and the AFL-CIO among others.

The intent of the NFO bill was to place limitations on corporate farming in the state. A measure dealing with the same subject is also before the Congress of the United States.

In a statement Rogers said, "The corporate farm bill passed by the assembly was a watered-down version of the original. However, it is a step in the right direction and I am confident that future legislatures will improve upon it."

Your Money's Worth Something for Nothing Is the Grand Illusion

BY SYLVIA PORTER

If you accepted some of the offerings which almost surely have come to you in recent months via the mails, newspaper or magazine ads or a variety of other promotions, you would have gotten "free!"

A home movie camera, projector, screen and all the trimmings — simply by agreeing to sign up for a certain amount of future film processing.

A parcel of land all of your own — simply by agreeing to pay the land survey and closing costs.

A 32-piece set of stainless steel tableware — simply by agreeing to buy a 114-piece set of dinnerware.

A de luxe vacation trip — simply by filling out a travel questionnaire.

Or were these things really "free!" to you?

Affluent and educated as we are, you would think that we would be exceedingly suspicious of any something-for-nothing. But we are far from it — and actually, the promotions are thriving as never before. Specifically:

High Price
On the home movie camera deal, you would have been required to pay, in advance, a high price for processing as many as 500-600 rolls of movie camera film — which more than covers the cost of the movie equipment. Or, through a variety of gimmicks, you would have ended up paying an inflated price for the movie equipment as well as for the film and processing. The obligation could have come to a staggering $1,000 to $2,000.

The "free" lot offer is as old as the land itself and thus is likely to be an unhabitable patch, maybe 20 feet wide. You would have had to pay a whole array of survey costs, closing costs, etc., amounting to $150 — and this for something you didn't want in the first place. Nearly always the cost of the free item is included in the price of the item for which you pay — as in the case of the "free" tableware. As Woodrow Wirsig, president of the Better Business Bureau of New York, puts it, "Barring genuine introductory offers, nothing is really free. The intelligent consumer should realize that it is unrealistic for a merchant to hand out free gifts indiscriminately."

Hidden Costs
The biggest "something for nothing" deal, however, was for the "free" vacation "won" to Mexico, Hawaii, Florida, Las Vegas or the Bahamas. There are many variations. In one, you have to pay a $15 to $25 "registration fee" to meet "regulations," only to discover that you are not a winner after all.

In other cases, you find that all you have won is a couple of nights in an inexpensive hotel, off-season not included are transportation, meals, drinks, tips, entertainment, etc. You also may find that only married people qualify or that you have to sit through a hard sell real estate pitch.

Then there are "free" wigs but the price you pay for "styling" (about $15) actually covers the cost of the wig.

There are "free" sewing machines but you pay by purchasing a 10-year servicing contract — in advance.

Snap at Bait
There are "free" stereo phonographs, with the cost hidden in dozens of high-priced records you must buy over a period of weeks and you can't get the stereo until you buy the records.

This is only a sampling—but surely it underscores for you why the National Better Business Bureau calls Something-for-Nothing "the grand illusion" and marvels at how many otherwise intelligent people "snap at the bait."

Surely during this, of all seasons, it is not wasting space to plead with you to be particularly wary when you are offered something-for-nothing. Again to quote the NBBB: "when you buy, be sure you know just what you are to receive, how much you are to pay and when."

Valley Communities Urged To Attend 'Have-Not' Talks

The statewide grassroots campaign of Milwaukee's Mayor Henry W. Maier to promote state legislation to provide for tax reform and property tax relief swung into the Fox Cities region Tuesday and today.

Personal contacts with mayors, village presidents and town chairmen whose communities would have benefited had the Tarr tax redistribution bill not been killed by the State Senate last month, are being made by William C. Carey, fiscal coordinator for Milwaukee.

Carey said here today that many officials in Outagamie, Winnebago, Waupaca, Calumet, Shawano and surrounding counties previously received personal letters from Maier asking them to attend a statewide "Have-Not Conference" at the Milwaukee Auditorium at 9:30 a.m. Jan. 9.

"In talking with mayors, village presidents and town chairmen in central and northern Wisconsin counties last week, I

Budget Cut In Menasha

Aldermen Slice $3 From Tax Levy Of $71.46 per $1,000

MENASHA — Budget-weary Menasha aldermen may have sent the city's net tax rate below $70 Tuesday night with reapplied funds and corrected budget figures.

The action took place as aldermen met to discuss a $7.8 million total city budget — carrying a net tax rate of $71.46 per $1,000 — that they vowed to cut when it was put up for a public hearing Monday night.

"I hesitate to say anything until I fully understand these figures, but it looks to me like we can cut that much ($3) from the tax rate," Third Ward Ald. Sumner Parker said after he and other aldermen applied surplus school funds and corrected apparently faulty budget figures Tuesday.

Parker said this morning, after working on budget figures after Tuesday's meeting adjourned at 11 p.m., that net city and school expenditures should be — about $128,000 less than the $4,528,567 noted in the latest compiled budget.

This would mean a reduction of about $2 off the $71.46 tax rate, and would not include any of the budget cuts made by the council Tuesday night. The revised figure is the result of reapplied funds on the revenue side.

Parker emphasized, however, that these figures would need careful scrutiny before he would accept them as final.

"We aren't really going to get anything done until we understand the public works budget," he said. Public Works Director Bruno Haas has been invited to tonight's budget session, beginning at 6:30 at city hall.

The proposed cuts Tuesday include $67,000 from the Gegan Elementary School construction fund turned over to the city for debt retirement by the board of education Monday night, $62,000 in revenues not previously shown in the budget and corrected street construction figures.

Esler Will Attend Welfare Session

Outagamie County Board Chairman Sylvester Esler of Appleton, will attend a conference on welfare programs called by the Milwaukee County Board for Dec. 17 at the Milwaukee County courthouse.

Esler said the county social services director, Alfred Egert, and one or two other board members may accompany him to the conference, which was called to consider recommendations for changes in the present state and federal programs.

Legion Officials Honored At Little Chute Post Dinner

LITTLE CHUTE — State Van Boxtel were named to head the Legion Commanders Bernie Baker, 4th and 9th District Commanders Jack Dammen and James Larson and Village President Edward Spierings were honored by the Legion at a dinner meeting Monday.

After the dinner, Baker spoke on the importance of Legion membership and on various range, conducted by police and Legion programs and policies the Dammen, who is on the Camp American Legion board, thanked the local group for all the work done in support of the camp. Larson presented 100 per cent membership pins to local Commander O'Neil Rochon and Ray Winius, membership chairman.

It was announced that membership in the local organization had reached 732, an all-time high. Tony Geurts and Tonyland Winius

Support Building for Redevelopment

NEENAH — With or without an adopted plan, Neenah is going to have considerable downtown development over the next several years.

For instance, S. N. Packard has already announced plans for a 110-unit Ramada Inn complex on the old Valley Inn block.

The Wisconsin Electric Power Company is ready to go with a new office building at Church and Wisconsin Avenue.

There also has been talk about a new Marine National Bank and a new major department store complex.

Jandrey's Store Plans for a multi-million dollar complex was announced in 1965 by Johnson-Hills, the Wisconsin Rapids firm which owns Jandrey's. These plans, however, have laid dormant for the past four years, and Chester Bell, Johnson-Hills president, said this week he could not commit himself on the company's future plans in Neenah.

There are undoubtedly more landowners and merchants in the downtown area who are planning either new retail centers or major rejuvenation of their present property.

A city council-adopted redevelopment project would be a tool to assist the developers in putting together the pace they need.

Merchant Reaction Just how do the leaders in the downtown feel about the city government getting into the redevelopment business? There are reactions strongly in favor of the city doing it, but also there are those who have some serious questions about it.

James Webb, of William Krueger Co., and a member of the redevelopment authority believes, "It is a vital necessity for the survival of the downtown."

"If we get more modern buildings, then we (merchants) can take advantage of modern merchandizing methods. A better physical layout will make better merchandisers out of us and ultimately we will be able to do a better job for the shopper," Webb predicted.

Growing Tax Base

"It will give us a growing tax base instead of one which is shrinking and it will be profitable for all sections of the community. As we get into buildings which are worth more, we will pay more taxes and the taxpayer will find his tax increases getting smaller," he said.

"In addition the shopper will have a better place to shop," he added.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pantion who own and operate the business which bears their name, are taking issue with the redevelopment authority's (Racon) intention to buy and tear down most of the buildings in the downtown.

"They argue that they have been keeping their building in good repair for the last 25 years they have occupied it."

"We are concerned that they (Racon) said most of the buildings in the downtown are deteriorated. We feel that we have kept our building in good repair," Mrs. Pantion explained.

Her husband cited the recently-completed face-lifting project.

"All the stores in the downtown have just been painted and new awnings and signs put up. Now they want to tear them down," he pointed out.

Mrs. Pantion added, "We are not against the improvements and certainly do not want to stand in the way of progress. But we would like some of our questions answered."

Frank Priest, owner of Camera and Card Shop and the newly-elected president of the downtown Neenah business arm of the Chamber of Commerce, agreed that there were a lot of questions to be answered about the proposed redevelopment plan.

"After these questions are answered, I'm sure we will get the same type of cooperation we have with the other project," Priest said. Participation in the refurbishing project was 100 per cent.

He said the repainting was recognized by all the merchants as an interim, stop-gap measure "which was going to last until the major redevelopment project got started."

He and his predecessor in the downtown merchants' post Warren Carlson, owner of Carlson's Closet, agree that the reaction businessmen have received will act as a stimulus to do more.

"The intention of the project was to set the stage with the long-range plan in mind," Priest added.

But the enthusiasm generated through a $50,000 project can fizzle very quickly when merchants start looking at rental prices at two or three times the square foot cost they are now paying.

James Stahlman who drafted the plan for A. L. Groote-maier and Sons, Milwaukee, argues that with better merchandising techniques and the right type of merchandising space, the additional cost can be more than offset by an increase in sales volume.

A Real Estate Research Corporation, in its 1967 study, predicted sales volume in the downtown would double to $12.6 million by 1980. "The downtown, if substantially upgraded, offers a stable business environment and a potential to a wide range of shoppers goods, convenience goods and convenience service facilities."

With a potential of increased sales volume and income, merchants could afford to spend more for leasing their selling space, Stahlman said.

But with an increase selling space comes more merchandise and a larger investment.

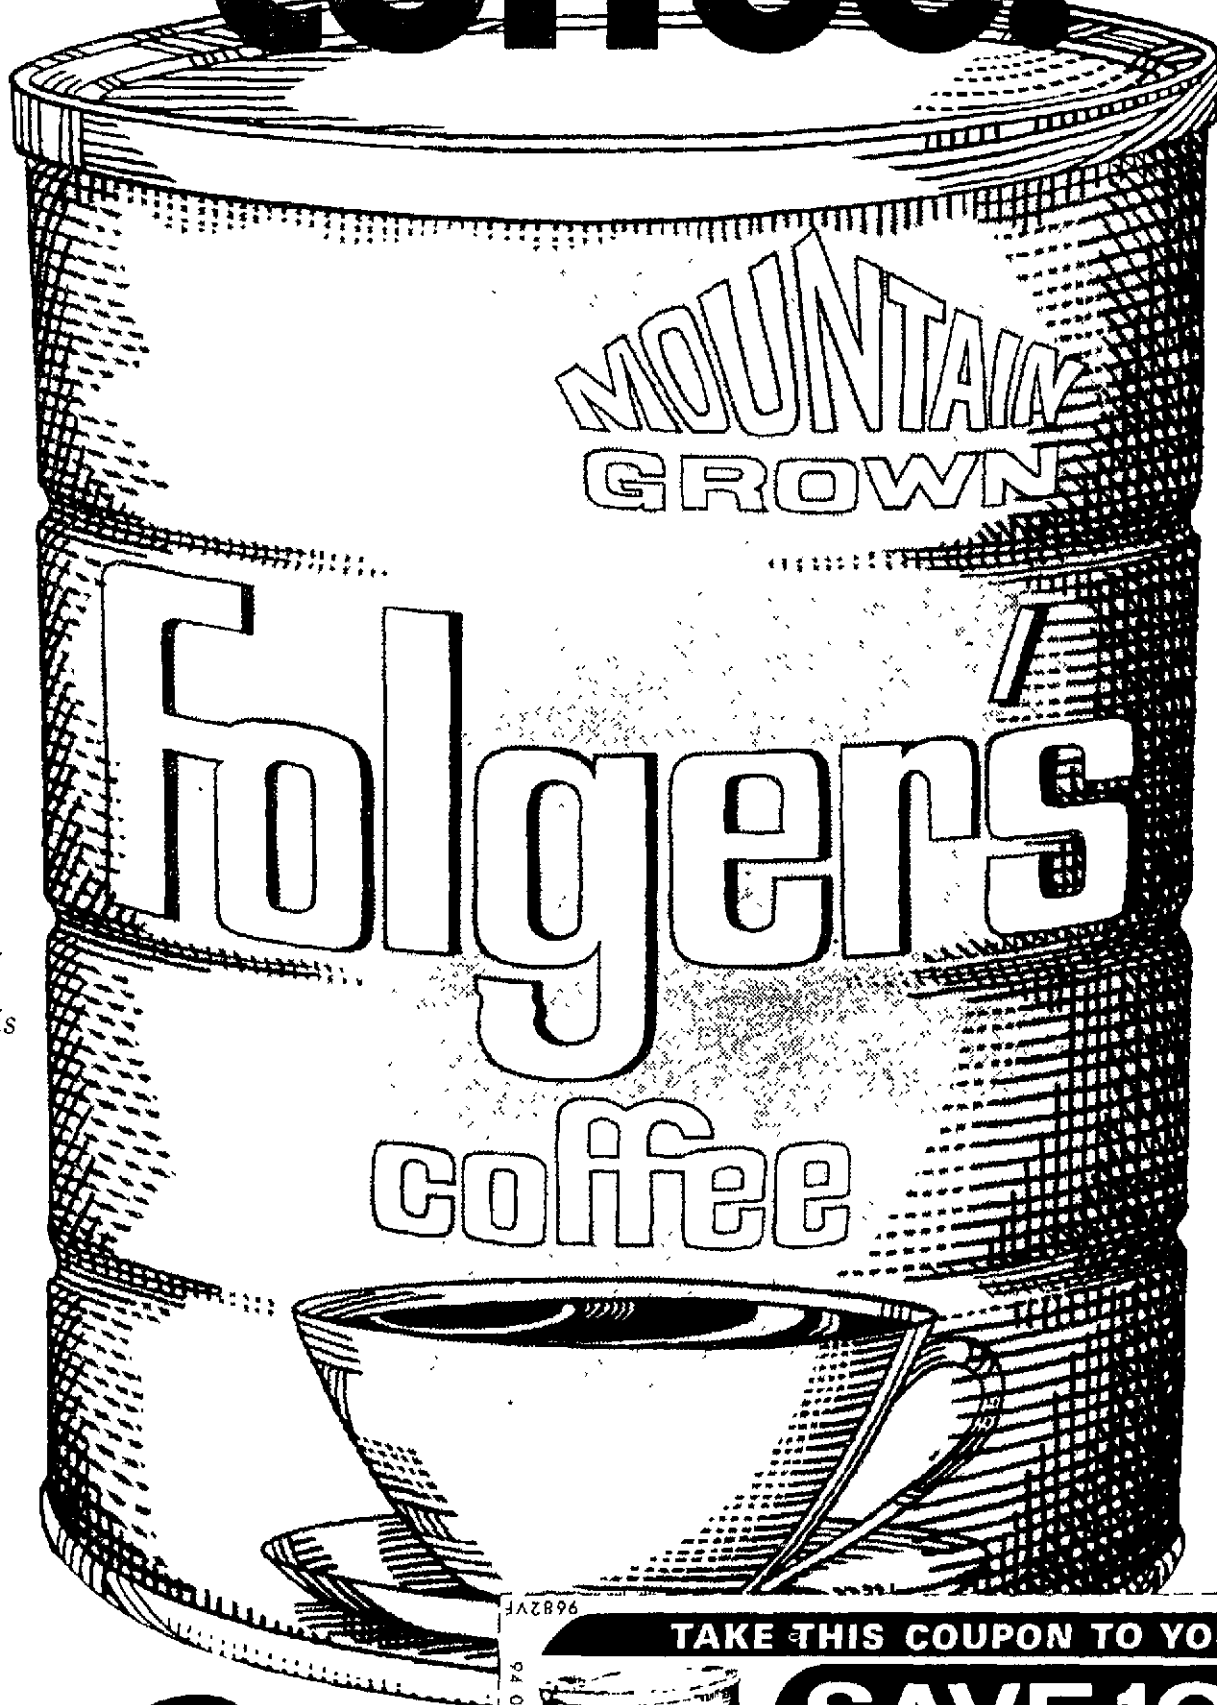

The financial institutions within the downtown have voiced strong support of the redevelopment project.

Plans Group OKs 27-Unit Apartment Building

NEENAH-MENASHA — The afternoon after the commission close to town so people can including six studio apartments, 15 one-bedroom and six two-bedroom apartments. Sensenbrenner pointed out that Bockl is the same firm which constructed the Executive House, across from the Neenah Post Office.

Juvenile Home OK'd For Adams County

MADISON (AP) — Construction of a $12 million penal institution for juveniles in Adams County received final approval Monday from the state Building Commission.

The institution will be one of seven operated by the Department of Health and Social Services for the care and treatment of delinquent boys when the 1969-71 building program is completed.

Current facilities, some still under construction, include the Wisconsin School for Boys at Vales, the Kettle-Moraine Boys School, the Lincoln Boys School and the Black River Falls, McNaughten and Flambeau camps. They have a total projected capacity of 1,608 by July.

Wednesday, December 10, 1969

The Adams County facility will add 600 to the capacity, a total figure the department says is necessary to meet increasing commitments.

The commission also authorized $6.2 million for an educational research facility at the University of Wisconsin. University officials said federal funds were available to finance the structure at a more desirable $6.45 million.

Also authorized was a $1.2 million stadium for Platteville State University and $103,000 for the purchase of a 40-acre tract for an addition to the Whitewater Campus.

BRA Disappears So Town Relaxes

WEST BRANCH, Iowa (AP) — West Branch folks breathe a little now that the BRA has been taken off their water tower.

The name of the town where former President Herbert Hoover was born was being repainted on the tank, but for weeks only BRA was visible. Last week the job was finished.

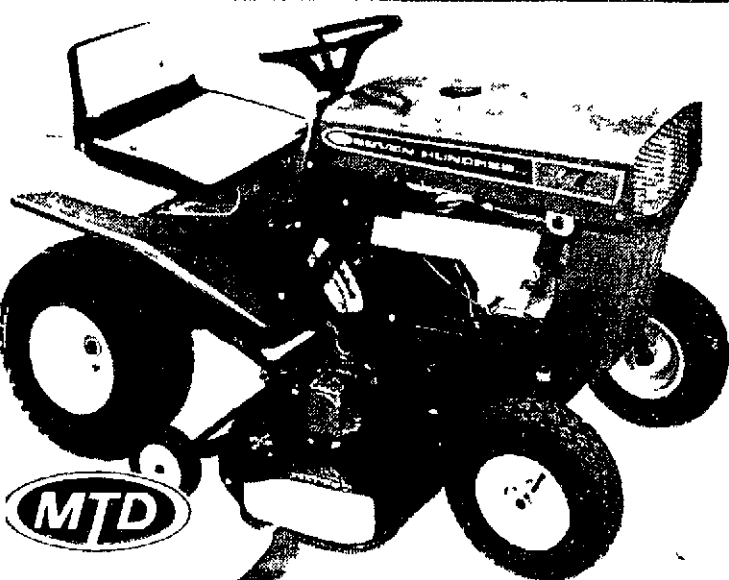

Mayor W. Minard Thomas explained, "Well, the painter got BRA painted on the tower and it started to rain. Then he got sick. It's a long story."

WSU Students Study Abroad

Spring, Summer Trips to Europe Set for Over 500

MADISON — More than 500 students from all nine Wisconsin State Universities will criss-cross Europe next spring and summer on 17 study programs, the WSU system office reports.

The programs are among 23 study tours and summer sessions and three regular year academic programs abroad approved by the Board of Regents at State Universities.

About 840 students will participate in all of the programs.

All costs of the study tours including faculty salaries, are paid by the students, said Roy E. Heath Madison, of the WSU system office staff.

The first study tour will be a joint venture of all the universities, taking about 150 students and faculty escorts on a two week tour of Russia, over the spring recess next April.

The summer programs will include:

From Oshkosh — Five groups to England and the continent of Europe to study art, geography, English literature, Spanish civilization and special education.

From Eau Claire — A choir tour and art study tour to Europe, a geologic field trip to Iceland and a summer session at Monterrey, Mexico.

From Platteville — Police administration and European studies tours to several European countries, a student teacher exchange program to England and the summer session with Eau Claire at Monterrey.

From River Falls — A three week tour to Europe in August led by Dr. Walker A. Wyman and a foreign student exchange program to England.

From Whitewater — A summer school in Switzerland in cooperation with Sisters of Mercy College, an art summer school in London, a summer school in Mexico City and an around the world tour.

From Stevens Point — A summer study tour to London and the continent.

From La Crosse — A geography field trip to Spain, Portugal and Morocco.

From Stout State University at Menomonie — A study tour on fashions and fabrics to Ireland, Scotland, England, Sweden, France, Switzerland, Italy and Spain.

From Superior — A field study tour to Tanzania in East Africa.

The regular year programs approved will continue the Oshkosh program at the universities of Ghana and Sierra Leone in Africa, the Semester in Britain program of Stevens Point and the Quarter in Europe program of River Falls.

Superior students and faculty weather will fly to Bermuda during the spring recess next April on a recreation tour sponsored by the student center.

Warren May Get Tree For Office After All

MADISON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert Warren may change his mind and buy a Christmas tree for his office after all under the custody of the Children's Court in Milwaukee while the frame of an umbrella which undergoing psychiatric examination had been decorated with colored ornaments, on a desk in the attorney general's reception room, Branch 2.

"I may have to get a real tree," Warren commented. "I've in the felony offenses were certainly been getting a lot of stolen from a northside home by a 15-year-old babysitter Oct. 5."

Forger Gets Two Years in Reformatory

West Allis Man Pleads Guilty to Five Charges

A 21-year-old West Allis man involved in a Brown County burglary and four check forgeries in Winnebago and Outagamie counties, Tuesday was sentenced to two years in the state reformatory at Green Bay.

Richard Moore, who appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2, head pleaded guilty of issuing forged $25 checks Oct. 13 at Fred's Bulko Station, 1601 N. Richmond St., and Ralph's Clark Service, 134 N. Richmond St.

The three counts from the two other counties were brought through consolidation proceedings. He also pleaded guilty to those counts. He has been in jail awaiting a pre-sentence investigation.

Brown County authorities said that Moore was involved in an Oct. 13 burglary at the Holiday Enco Station, in the Town of Ashwaubenon.

Winnebago County authorities said that he was involved in the issuance of a forged $45 check at the Campbell Store, 128 W. Wisconsin Ave., and at Landreys-Johnson Hills Store, 120 W. Wisconsin Ave., both in Neenah Oct. 11 and 12.

Darryl W. Rozell, 18, also of West Allis, is charged with five Robert Warren may change his mind and buy a Christmas tree for his office after all under the custody of the Children's Court in Milwaukee while the frame of an umbrella which undergoing psychiatric examination had been decorated with colored ornaments, on a desk in the attorney general's reception room, Branch 2.

Nelson Warns of Air Pollution Outlaw Exhaust Engines?

STURGEON BAY Describing the automobile as the major contributor to air pollution, Sen. Gaylord Nelson said this week that Congress may have to take steps to outlaw the internal combustion engine.

The Wisconsin Democrat said that motor vehicles of all types account for between 60 and 85 per cent of the air pollution in metropolitan areas.

"The millions of tons of pollutants that daily mix into the air we breathe," Nelson said, "are causing dangerous health hazards that have long passed the levels we should tolerate."

Speaking before the annual meeting of the Door County Chamber of Commerce here, Nelson said the nation's motor vehicle industry will have to replace the internal combustion engine with available alternative engines or develop a new one.

Attempts
Nelson noted that the automobile industry has made attempts to curb pollution by adding anti-pollution devices to the exhaust systems, but that "such devices are only partially effective," and the growing number of autos in the nation will soon cancel even this effectiveness."

Nelson said that the 1970 number of motor vehicles in the country will be 80 million and that by 1990 the number will have doubled.

Several alternative forms of engines are being tested, Nelson continued, that are showing promise. Three options to the internal combustion gasoline engine Nelson named were the steam engine, gas turbine and electric vehicle.

Nelson said that tests have shown that the gas turbine, the engine with the most promise, gives off only about 10 per cent of the hydrocarbons or unburned gas fumes of the internal combustion engine. Many scientists believe that hydrocarbons are cancer-causing agents, he pointed out.

Could Be Done
"Any one of these, with an economic and competitive nudge of one degree or another, could be successfully and profitably marketed in the next five or 10 years," Nelson argued.

Nelson said that the electric car would be pollution free, while the steam engine and gas turbine "are significantly far below the internal combustion engine in most pollution tests run so far."

The health hazards of air pollution can no longer be ignored, Nelson warned.

"Los Angeles already has established what are called red alert days when parents are advised not to allow children out heating and ventilating contractor for the project, said his firm hired Carson Helicopters, Inc., Perkaskie, Pa., because it would take several days to do the job with a crane. It reportedly took five minutes per unit. The addition was designed by Schutte Mochon, Inc., Appleton architects. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Buckley Won't Veto Budget

year," he added, referring to a portion of the city, and $70.27 in deficit of about $27,000 after Calumet Buckley's proposals would have reduced each by 35 cents.

Objects to Motion
Ald. George Schwarzbauer (10th) objected to the Tews motion. "Rather than try to make ourselves heroes with the taxpayers" at the risk of being caught short if an emergency should arise, Schwarzbauer proposed placing funds already cut the sum already cut to produce into the contingency fund and a reduction of $1 in taxes per leaving the tax rate unchanged.

The proposal passed 16-2. As Finance Director David Champion termed the transfer adjourned, Buckley remarked, "a gamble," but he added, "I'll see you in a few days, wouldn't be the last to say it gentlemen."

The additional cut in the tax rate did the mayor's opening proposals one better. He suggested his package of cuts as a means of holding the gross tax increase to 6 per cent over last year.

The budget adopted last Thursday carried gross tax rates of $72.73 per $1,000 valuation in the Outagamie County insulator, slowing the freezing and anyone else planning to travel onto ice-covered lakes in use extreme caution.

The warning came from state conservation warden Dale P. Morey who cited the deaths of two persons whose snowmobile plunged through the thin ice of Green Bay Sunday.

Morey said that a blanket of snow makes area lakes look safe for travel, but it is that same blanket of snow that makes them unsafe at this time. The snow cover acts as an ice fisherman walking on area lakes varies from two to six inches in thickness, depending on the size depth, exposure and current conditions of the lake, he said.

Ice fishermen are walking on Lake Winnebago, Morey said, but he cautioned against practice at this early date.

"Two inches of good, solid ice makes for safe walking," he explained, "but the problem is that when the coating is that thin, there is often a variance in the thickness."

Buckley said the relief payments are up 14.4 per cent in Outagamie and 38.4 per cent in Calumet, and argued that his proposal to reduce the gross tax rate would give taxpayers a greater share of the benefit from the relief increases, which are financed through sales taxes.

His proposal would have meant that after deducting the state relief, the tax on property assessed at $1,000 in Outagamie County would have been taxed at a $67.82 rate and in Calumet at $63.15. The council action, because it incorporates some but not all of Buckley's cuts, would lower the rates by something less than a dollar.

Aldermen accepted on a 10-8 vote a Buckley recommendation to eliminate $7,100 to buy new City Hall office machines, renting them instead. Another $10,000 had been left in a Park Department account for building a shelter at East Park, an item cut already by $6,000 with the remainder termed by Buckley as inadequate to build the shelter. That vote was 17-1. An $18,000 reduction in fire department salaries taking into account probable vacancies in the department passed unanimously.

But aldermen refused 15-3 to eliminate $16,850 from public works mobile machinery accounts, in addition to rejecting Buckley's welfare proposals 12-6. On a 16-2 vote aldermen refused to cut the fleet of police squad cars by one and transfer the funds to contingencies.

Appleton Man Was Former Head Of Realtors' Group

Carl J. Schroeder, 72, of 837 E. College Ave., longtime Appleton resident and a prominent community leader for over 25 years died Tuesday in a local hospital.

Schroeder was administrative assistant to the treasurer of the Appleton Association for Lutherans until his retirement in 1962. He has served on the board of directors for the American Red Cross in Appleton on the city received the distinguished service award from the Jaycees and was state president of the American Institute of National Realtors.

He was general chairman for the Appleton Memorial Hospital fund campaign, and was active in both the American Legion and the Appleton Elks Club.

Schroeder is survived by his widow, Irene, twin daughters and four grandchildren.

taken from streets and public parking lots.

The owners or users of all but 10 of the stolen cars had either left the keys in the ignitions or had left their ignitions unlocked. The ignitions in some cars can be turned on without the use of a key if unlocked. The key ordinance also covers unlocked ignitions.

In the other 10 cases, Lathrop said, keys for cars were stolen from the owners or the car thieves crossed ignition wires to get the vehicles started.

Lathrop's figures show that 66 cars were stolen in Appleton in 1967, 58 in 1968 and 56 through November of this year. Several juveniles taken into custody last month were responsible for many recent car thefts.

The problem of items being stolen from unlocked cars also is on the rise, Wolff said.

Helicopters to Have Safer Fuel Systems

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Army's Aviation Systems Command in St. Louis says more than 11,000 military helicopters will be equipped with a new crash-resistant fuel system.

The first aircraft to have the safety device will be produced in the spring of 1970. The Army said Tuesday it will be used mainly for Army helicopters but could be applied to civilian aviation.

Dictator Runs For Presidency In Colombia

Everyone Will Have A Car, Rojas
Promises Voters

By JORGE CANELAS
Associated Press Writer
BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) —
Gustavo Rojas Pinilla, once Co-lombia's dictator, is running for the presidency with a promise that every Colombian will have a car if he is elected.

The former army general who ruled in 1953-57 is considered a possible winner if a split persists in the nation's ruling National Front—made up of the Conservatives and the Liberals, once archenemies.

Rojas's strength lies among an unhappy lower class who are contrasting the prices of goods during his dictatorship to prices that have shot up under inflationary pressures.

Colombians are generally not very enthusiastic when it comes to voting—only 40 per cent of the electorate turned out for the 1966 presidential election —and if this trend prevails in April's elections Rojas' loyal following could be effective.

Rojas, 69, campaigned in 1966 for President Carlos Lleras Restrepo's opponent, Jose Jaramillo Giraldo. Lleras Restrepo won by a margin of 2 to 1. He contended his lopsided margin was a setback for Rojas' forces.

Rojas himself ran in the congressional elections earlier in 1966 and got 20 per cent of the vote.

Experts say that Colombia's military men, who kicked Rojas out in 1957, are likely to block his inauguration if he should win.

Alternate Presidency
Under Colombia's rules, Liberals and Conservatives alternate the presidency every four years. The current president is a Liberal.

Thus it is a Conservative's turn to win in April.

But the Liberal-Conservative front is not solidly behind the official candidate nominated last week after considerable wrangling. He is Misael Pastrana Borrero, 46, former ambassador to the United States and a leading economist and attorney.

Rojas is a Conservative also and is running as an independent. So are Belisario Betancur and Evaristo Sourdís, both dissidents in the National Front.
They expressed their opposition to Pastrana, who many say lacks the charm and style to bring out the voters.

Experts concede that in such a four-way race the National Front candidate could lose the election for the first time since the Liberal-Conservative coalition was formed after Rojas' ouster in 1957.

Pastrana has held Cabinet posts at a time of social development and this background could help him as the campaign progresses.

Betancur, also 46, may get support from defectors from the National Front as well as from younger voters who look for new political alternatives. He has the backing of the main labor unions and moderate leftist groups.

Betancur calls Pastrana's nomination a "prefabricated" act by the oligarchy.

Sourdís, 64, is strong long the northern coast where he was born. He supports the National Front's policies generally but objects to Pastrana's nomination.

A Conspiracy of Confusion

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Special Correspondent

You see, Doc, I'm a traveling man, and I got this hang-up. The wash rooms of the world just blow my mind, especially the cutsy-pie ones. I mean, I never know which way to turn. It's no sweat when they come right out and say "Men" and "Women." And I don't mind them getting a little playful with "Guys" and "Dolls," or "Play boys" and "Bunnies," or "His" and "Hers." Man, that's like saying it like it is. I'm not what you'd call bilingual, or any kind of lingual for that matter, but I can get along pretty good in a foreign country. At least I give it the old college try. I know that I'm a "Monsieur" and not a "Madame," and a "Senor" and not a "Senorita" and an "Homme" and not a "Femme."

If you move about in my circles, you just sort of have an instinct for those things. When in Rome, they say. . . Although the last time I was in Rome, I felt a bit queasy going in the door for "Uomos," and in Germany, I was pretty sure I was a "Herren" and not a "Damen," but I got a little worried about that middle door marked "Rauchen Verboten."

What really bugs me is when they try to get fancy or sophisticated or whatever they think they're being.

There are times when a guy just doesn't have time to decide "Diamond Jim" and the other, whether he is a "Mikado" or a "Lillian Russell," which is fair "Geisha," or a "Caballero" or a enough. But right next door is a "Condesa," or a "Wahine" or "Kanaka."

It's So Basic

I go helter and skelter trying to find whether I'm "Hero" or "Leander" and never know who talking about in the basement. And what about all those sea food houses with "Gulls" and "Guys"?

Othello or Desdemona. Would you believe the Hilton could be wrong about all four. Which is why I don't get to Howe Cavern. I just don't plain know if I'm a stalagmite or a stalactite. How much time I got left on my hour, Doc? I get pretty worked up and could go on where one facility is called don, where they got separate and on.

Lacy Cookie Ornaments

Cookie Christmas Tree

Sandwich Cane

Happy Holiday Hi-Jinks

Lillian Mackesy POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR

'Tis the Season to be Jolly . . . so goes the gay Christmas song, bright and melodic to fit the festive season. The musical phrase can be adapted to holiday entertaining to match the color, sight and sound of the 12 days of Christmas.

It's the season for creativity and the nicest part about most of these recipes today is that they are excellent ideas with little fuss or bother. Possibly the decorative Lace Cookies for tree, table or dessert may be a bit tricky, but the others are very easy to do.

So, without more ado, here are the recipes for the Lace Cookies . . . a Cookie Christmas Tree . . . a delightful array of sandwiches set up in candy cane fashion on paper lace oblongs or metallic rectangles of green or red or both . . . a marvelous pineapple salad in a star mold and a delectable ball of cheese spread liberally laced with chopped pickles.

LACY COOKIE ORNAMENTS
1/2 cup maple-cane syrup
1/4 cup butter
1/2 cup flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
Hard candies

Bring syrup and butter to a boil; boil about 1/2 minute. Stir in flour and salt. When well blended, drop by teaspoonfuls about 3 inches apart onto greased cookie sheet. (Bake only 4 to 6 at a time to allow time for shaping into bells before cookies harden). Bake for 8 to 10 minutes in a 350 degree oven until golden brown. Remove cookies with pancake turner; with fingers, roll warm cookie wafers into a cone shape.

(If cookies become too hard to shape, put them back in the oven for a few seconds to warm and soften.)

For each decoration, tie an individually wrapped round candy ball with a red, green, silver or gold string or thread, and pull through cookie cone. Knot string at top, inside bell, to hold clapper in place. Be sure string is long enough to allow the candy ball to hang down to resemble bell clapper at the bottom, and to tie securely to Christmas tree ornament hanger at the top. Recipe makes about 30 cones.

Cones also can be filled with tiny pieces of candy and placed at each child's plate; also, they are delicious filled with sweetened whipped cream just before serving.

COOKIE CHRISTMAS TREE
2 1/2 cups Make-Own Mix (do not pack)
1/2 cup margarine
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup finely chopped nuts

Decoration
Beat margarine, sugar, egg and vanilla until light and fluffy. Gradually add mix and chopped nuts. Combine until stiff dough is formed. Turn onto floured board or pastry cloth. Divide dough into halves. Shape each half into 7-inch roll. Refrigerate until very firm. Cut into 1/4-inch slices. Arrange slices on cookie sheet about half-inch apart, placing in shape of Christmas tree (one at top center, then two below, then three, etc.)

Decorate with candied fruit.

candies and colored sugars, as desired. Bake in 375-degree oven 8 to 10 minutes.

CANDY CANE SANDWICHES

SWEET HAM SPREAD
1 (4 1/2-oz.) can deviled ham
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1/4 cup orange marmalade
30 party pumpernickel slices
Softened butter

CHICKEN CONFETTI SPREAD

1 (4 1/4-oz.) can chicken spread
1/4 cup chopped pimiento-stuffed olives
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
30 party rye slices
Softened butter

CREAMY PATE SPREAD

1 (4 1/4-oz.) can liver-wurst spread
3 ounces cream cheese
2 tablespoons chopped scallions
30 party cheese bread slices
Softened butter

Combine first three ingredients in each recipe. Spread breads with softened butter. Spread half of bread slices with meat spread mixture; close sandwiches with remaining slices. Each recipe makes 15 sandwiches. Arrange sandwiches, on edge, in shape of candy cane. Secure ends with toothpicks garnished with parsley and a whole cranberry. These recipes make two candy canes of approximately 22 sandwiches each.

PINEAPPLE SALAD
1 (1-pound 4-ounce) can crushed pineapple

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
2 (3-ounce) pkgs. raspberry gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 (1-pound) can whole cranberry sauce
1 cup port wine
1 cup chopped walnuts
8 ounces cream cheese
1 cup dairy sour cream
Pineapple slices

Drain half-cup syrup from pineapple. Sprinkle unflavored gelatin over syrup to soften. Place softened gelatin over low heat, stirring constantly, until dissolved. Dissolve raspberry gelatin in boiling water. Add dissolved unflavored gelatin to raspberry gelatin. Stir in remaining undrained pineapple, cranberry sauce and port wine. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Stir in walnuts and pour into star mold or a 9 x 12-inch dish. Chill until firm. Unmold. Soften cream cheese and mix with sour cream. Spread over top of molded gelatin. Top with canned pineapple slices. Recipe makes 12 servings.

PICKLE CHEESE BALL

1/2 cup blue cheese
3 pkgs. (8 ounces each) cream cheese, softened
1 1/2 cups grated Cheddar cheese
1/2 cup finely chopped sweet fresh cucumber pickles
2 tablespoons finely chopped sweet fresh cucumber pickles
Sweet gherkin garnish

Combine cheeses and 1/2 cup

It's Christmas. Isn't it time you gave an Omega?

More than likely, it is. A fine watch is a marvelous gift — for him or for her. And when it's an Omega, it's one of the most lasting gifts you can bestow. Certainly, the most frequently used.

This Christmas, we have a magnificent collection of Omega timepieces. See us right now. It's time you did!

Members of the Career Girls Forum line up for supper at their third meeting. Organized in October at the Appleton YMCA as one of its activity groups for single women, members met for December at the service center of Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. where they heard home economist Mary - Beth Kuester talk on "Entertaining Ideas." Miss Bernice Junge is serving the food at the buffet table in top picture. Chairman of the supper meeting, Miss Ruth Bohl, admires a tray of appetizers prepared for the demonstration.

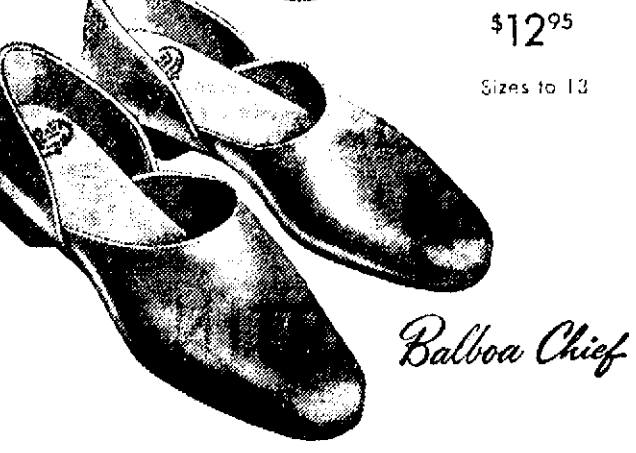

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM FOR CHRISTMAS

Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today without diet or exercise. Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A feather-stitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem. The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation. "Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available at H. C. Frange Co. and other stores with fashion spirit.

Party in a Hurry
With an electric frypan, a rotisserie and a 30-cup party percolator, Miss Kuester prepared a party meal for the group. The party percolator, believe it or not, was used for making punch "which makes it a double-duty appliance, more useful," she said. She cautioned her listeners to keep the coffee pot clean — the old-fashioned idea of coffee build-up is a myth that should be discouraged — by using cream of tartar for an aluminum pot and baking soda for stainless steel. "Perk the water and cleaner through a regular cycle, then wash the percolator thoroughly with sudsy water."

While a pair of chickens finished roasting on the spit of the rotisserie oven ("It works like a broiler in a stove, so keep door open slightly"), Miss Kuester made the sauce in the frypan, perked the punch in the big percolator and brought out a magnificent Raspberry Pie from the refrigerator ("a make-ahead that can use a packaged graham cracker crust if time's a factor"). Here are her recipes, including Cocktail Franks as an appetizer.

- COCKTAIL FRANKS
2 pounds wieners, cut up
1 jar currant jelly
1/2 jar prepared mustard
Combine ingredients in an electric frypan. Bring to simmer and hold at lowest setting. Simmer for about one hour.
- FLAMING APRICOT CHICKEN
2 fryers, rotissed
1 cup white corn syrup
1 cup apricot preserves
2 tablespoons lemon extract
Heat preserves and syrup to boil. Pour over chickens. Spoon lemon extract over syrup mixture and ignite. Serve flaming.
- HOT SPICED PUNCH
For 30 Cup Percolator
9 cups unsweetened pineapple juice
9 cups cranberry juice cocktail
4 1/2 cups water
1 cup brown sugar
4 1/4 teaspoons whole cloves
4 cinnamon sticks, broken
1/4 teaspoon salt
For 10 Cup Percolator
3 cups pineapple juice
3 cups cranberry juice
1 1/2 cups water
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons cloves
1 stick cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon salt
Combine all ingredients except cloves, cinnamon and salt in an automatic percolator. Place cloves, cinnamon and salt in basket. Allow to go through perk cycle. Serve piping hot.
- RASPBERRY PIE
1 can sweetened condensed milk
1/2 cup lemon juice
1 pkg. frozen raspberries, well drained
Whipping cream
Graham cracker shell
In bowl stir milk and lemon juice together until thickened. Fold in raspberries. Pour into graham cracker shell. Chill. Serve topped with whipped cream. This makes an 8-inch pie.

Thought Will Determine Perfect Present for Him

With Christmas just around the corner it's time to start thinking about what to get for the man on your Christmas list. Before setting out on a shopping spree, ask yourself: Is he happier barbecuing a steak in the backyard than dining at a fancy French restaurant? Does reading a good book please him more than a romp through the woods? Does he think of himself as America's only hope at Wimbledon or a real threat to Jack Nicklaus? Would he rather fix that broken kitchen chair himself than call in a repairman? Is his favorite saying, "Clothes make the man"? The answers undoubtedly will help you find the perfect gift to please him. Here are some other gift ideas to suit his vocation or avocation.

Top Tycoon. Make his 9-to-5 hours more pleasant with bright new desk accessories — matching leather-trimmed blotter and pencil holders, letter openers and desk top file boxes.

Country Gentleman. Is he the type who revels in the scent of burning leaves and the aroma of fine tobacco? Your Fox Valley tobaccoist offers a variety of aromatic mixes or custom-blended tobaccos as well as everything to smoke them in, from a fine meerschaum to a corn-cob pipe.

Clothes Horse. He flips for finery, so treat him to a

'Ride 'em' Toys Fill Basic Needs For Youngsters

Don't be surprised if your preschooler's Christmas list includes an airplane, a truck or a horse. The fascination of children for any and all transportation toys is as old as history. It represents one of a child's basic needs — the need to move about and explore his world from many different perspectives.

The earliest transportation toys were probably carts of some sort, replicas of the larger vehicles their fathers used to transport goods and produce from one place to another. But as technology advanced so did the nature of toys.

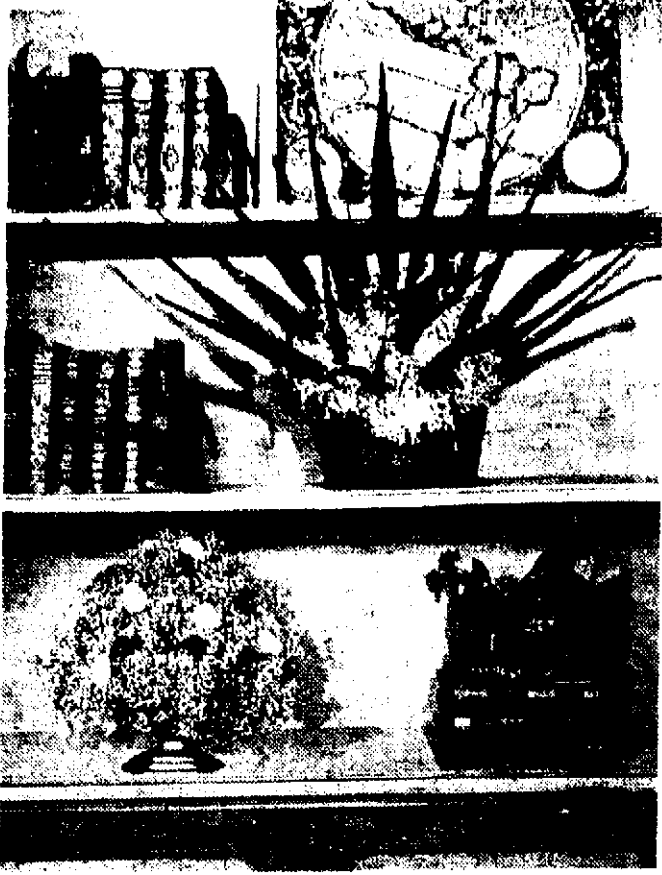

Preschoolers today watch westerns on TV and listen to stories of men who flew to the moon; they see trucks, tractors and airplanes. Youngsters imagine themselves into similar situations and wish for the machinery — toys scaled to their world to pretend the same activities themselves.

For parents or grandparents playing Santa to a preschooler this year, filling a request like that will be easy thanks to some imaginative transportation toys, both new and classics.

And, those versatile play-toys help a child explore and expand his world and develop his skills. Family Santas will know that the transportation toy that delights their special preschooler on Christmas morning aids him in learning-while-playing throughout the year.

Sugars Satisfy Without Nourishing

Sweet foods, such as jams, pastries and cakes, lend interest to meals and may provide needed calories for active children and adults.

Pheasant Feathers and miniature star straw flowers combine handsomely for a man's bouquet. What better way to perk up his surroundings over the holidays?

Men Like Big, Spicy Flowers

Who says a man doesn't appreciate a gift of flowers? Spicy blossoms with a rugged, masculine look will bring the spirit of fields and forests straight to your favorite man's library or office this holiday season.

Some flowers are so woodsey in appearance that they'd lure Tonto from his horse for a closer look. Take, for example, these natural, everlasting dried blossoms: globe-thistle, lotus and honesty pods; wood roses, straw flowers and yarrow.

Add an assortment of ornamental reeds, grains and grasses, and there is no doubt that you've created a he-man bouquet.

Be bold and think big in arranging flowers for a man! You will find a rich assortment of everlasting blooms, grains and grasses at florist shops this time of year. Many are perfect for large-scale arrangements.

Sea oats and plume grass for height, dried artichokes for girth, cardone puffs and lotus pods for humor, a few straw flowers for color — combine them all in one five-foot-tall feathery, whiskey explosion. The right container is important. Brass is particularly bold and beautiful for a man's bouquet. A large pottery vase of neutral hue is also appropriate.

If space is limited, try your hand at a small bouquet of miniature straw flowers and pheasant feathers. Arrange the flowers in a compact, plump, and rounded line, and intersperse evenly with the beautiful brown feathers. Even though it is tiny, this bouquet, too, speaks of fields, marshes and woodsey places.

Long-lasting aroma is an extra delight if you add eucalyptus foliage to your forest bouquet.

Your Problems She Shouldn't Have to Violate Principles

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've started a dozen letters to you and torn them all up. This one is going in the mail no matter how stupid it sounds when I re-read it.
Every time my husband has a few drinks he starts nagging me about going to a nudist camp with him. He insists it is normal and healthy and highly recreational. I say a person can be just as healthy with his clothes on.

Last summer my husband spent one full day at a nudist camp. He did not tell me in advance where he was going. I don't mind that he went. I've told him he can go again if he likes, but without me. I do not enjoy the idea of running naked in front of strangers and I have no interest in looking at men and women romping together in the buff.

Am I stuffy? Am I nuts? I love my husband and I want to keep him happy. Should I force myself to go, just to please him? Please advise — T.G.

Dear T.G.: No. You have told your husband he can go with your blessings and I believe your generosity should end there. By the same token, he should respect your feelings and not ask you to sacrifice your integrity by doing something which would violate your moral or ethical principles.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Thanks for telling "Counting on You" to seek help for emotional problems by going to the nearest Mental Health Clinic. I have another suggestion which may be of value to your readers. It is an organization called "Recovery, Inc." Many doctors endorse this group and send patients there when they discontinue therapy.

I tried suicide twice, so you know I was one of the sickest of the sick. "Recovery, Inc." has made me see the beauty and the wonder of living. Now I treasure every day. It's hard for me to believe I wanted to end my life. Please, Ann, tell your readers about Recovery — Grateful in New Orleans.

Dear Grateful: Several readers have written to ask me to mention Recovery, Inc. I have suggested this splendid organization in the column in the past, and I am happy to do so again. There are, at present, 780 chapters in the United States and a few in Canada. Those of you who are interested can write to the national headquarters for information. The address is 116 South Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. If there is a chapter in your city it will be listed in the phone directory.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a teen-ager who is considering trying marijuana. I am not asking whether you think it is a good idea or not. A friend told me if I get caught I can be convicted of a felony. What does this mean? I can't believe the punishment is as bad as he said — Bud

Dear Bud: A person convicted of a felony can never be a lawyer, a mailman, a policeman or go to officer's candidate school. He cannot vote, he cannot own a gun. He would not be admitted to most medical schools, even if he had a brilliant scholastic record. Under the federal 1957 Narcotic Drug Act the penalty for being caught smoking marijuana is from two to 10 years in prison and a fine up to $5,000. This is for the first offense. The second offense calls for a mandatory sentence of five years and up. And that's just the federal law. Some state penalties are even higher — like 20 years for a first offense.

In my opinion, the laws are too severe and should be changed, but until they are, they are the laws and you'd better believe it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Gift of Fine Wine One to Treasure For Years to Come

Give wine for Christmas and give pleasure memories, and companionship.

A single fine Bordeaux of memorable vintage may be the most welcome present of the year to the gourmet who has everything.
Pack four regional Bordeaux wines (Medoc, Margaux, St. Emilion, Graves) in a wicker wine-carrier. Add a small wheel of cheese and you give a young career girl the makings of a wine tasting party.

Six half bottles of six different moderately priced minor chateaux wines of Bordeaux could be a gift of six very special memories to a young bride and groom on a budget.
Send a close friend two bottles of Sauternes and a red Bordeaux, together with your favorite recipe for roast holiday ham glazed with Sauternes.

For ski addicts send two modest red Bordeaux with two inexpensive tulip glasses. Pack each item in a ski sock or, wrapped carefully in a canvas haversack for their backs.

Send half bottles of white and red wines to that lonely aunt or uncle who too often dines alone and has given up wines because he or she cannot use a whole bottle. And, make doing parents more doting with a carefully selected case of wines representative of various regions from several shippers.

When a husband needs a present for that boss, find out from the great man's secretary what his favorite dishes are and have your wine merchants select three appropriate accompanying wines.

For the man in your life, choose a memorable beginning cellar, packed in a modest wine rack. Or if he is already a wine lover who knows better than you which twelve wines he would never buy for himself?

Bordeaux wines are exceptionally good Christmas gifts because they are varied in type and price and because the selection can range from wines ready to drink to wine to be stored and cherished for years before drinking.

Bordeaux wines of 1961 are out of sight in price, but the 1962's provide very good buys. 1964's are also excellent and 1966's are just appearing relatively moderate in price. These wines years hold much promise for storing and for later savoring.

It is a good idea, if you do not want to spend a "fortune" to seek out a few regional wines, which can be drunk now but will keep well. But for a cellar gift, choose fourth and even fifth growth wines of moderate price. The wine merchants will have a list

Don't Allow Opponents 2nd Punch

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

of hearts West overruffs with clubs at the third trick. South must discard his singleton spade instead of ruffing. This costs declarer nothing, since he was sure to lose spade trick sooner or later anyway. The advantage of discarding the spade is that it cuts communication between West and East.

East leads another club and this time South ruffs with the nine of hearts. West takes the third defensive trick by overruffing with the ten. Then, however, the defense grinds to a halt. West cannot get to his partner. South wins any return and draws the last two trumps. The rest is easy.

If you know any small boys, be sure to teach them this lesson.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one club, and the next player passes. You hold S-5 H-Q J 9 6 5 4 2 D-A K Q J C-A. What do you say?

Answer: Bid one heart. Be-ware of jumping to two hearts when you have neither good support for partner's suit nor a very strong suit of your own. Try to get a natural rebid from your partner before you head for a slam. You would jump to two hearts if your partner opened with one diamond, since then you would aim for a slam in diamonds.

West opens the deuce of clubs, an obvious singleton, and any sensible south boy wins with the ace of clubs and leads a trump to force out the ace. East returns the king of clubs, and we have our chance to see what small boys are made of.

If South is made of the traditional frogs and snails and puppy dogs' tails, he will ruff the king of clubs with the nine of hearts.

Sternet Stuff

If South is made of sterner stuff, he will prevent West from getting a second trump trick. There is no way to shut out

BY ERMA BOMBECK
So many husbands, I have written to me asking what I could suggest for their wives for Christmas.
Happily, I can report there is a new line of toys on the market, designed especially for housewives. For the woman with a lot of "little girl" in her yet, there is a wide selection of dolls for Christmas giving.
New this year is the Margaret Mead doll which when you wind it up puts its other foot in its mouth. There's the Betty Friedan doll which is becoming a favorite. You pull a string in its back and it sings Peggy Lee's hit, "Is That All There Is?" There are two new adult dolls destined to replace Barbie and Ken called the Pat and Dickie dolls. You turn a key in their backs and they frown.

For the "Little Mothers" there's the Phyllis Diller housekeeping kit which features a chisel and a suicide ring. For the knock-it-off-with 'he-little-mother-bit, there's the Margaret Sanger birth control kit which includes a bottle of sleeping pills and a ticket for one to Havana.
And who could resist the Jacqueline Onassis Language records. They come in a gaily decorated package of six and feature how to say, "Charge it and send" in 15 languages.
The thinking woman on your list will appreciate the Pauline Frederick Joke book with 1,000 funnies for all occasions. (Including what Greece said to Turkey in the UN cafeteria.)
Or perhaps the Madlyn Murray O'Hare Christmas Story, (with 17 handsome illustrations) showing how 12

chief justices followed a star leading to the Supreme Court.
From Fiches to Rags is a new Monopoly game for the entire family, featuring Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip. There is suspense with every roll of the dice. Try to own the Thames, all the utilities, and Buckingham Palace. (Pass Go and collect Prince Charles drum set.)
For the woman who has everything, don't overlook the Laz Taylor Walk-In Jewelry Box. It can also be used for an indoor recreation center or a summer cabin.
And don't forget those important little stocking stuffers. There's Doris Day candy (Pure Sugar. Absolutely no cyclamate added!) or a Jacqueline Susann foot warmer.

Skim Milk Powder
Used in Cooking
Skim milk powder may be used in cooking or baking. Sift it into the dry ingredients and add the same amount of water as the recipe states for milk.
(Her book done up as a cozy.)
Happy shopping.

These Methods Help Control Cholesterol

By George C. Thosteson, M.D.
(Third of a series of three articles)
A final few thoughts on keeping your cholesterol within reasonable limits:

Granting that choice of foods has a bearing, so do some other factors. Exercise will reduce the amount of cholesterol circulating in your arteries. This has been proved by tests of various groups of people. For one example, taking a group of business men, and having half of them get some regular exercise such as swimming. No

Fond du Lac Starts Power Substation

FOND DU LAC — A $1.5 million substation recently was placed into operation as part of the Wisconsin Power and Light Co. transmission system. William H. Ferris, senior vice president of engineering system operation, and Burton C. Peters, division manager of Fond du Lac, dedicated the facility, with Madison by way of the Central Lac, dedicated the facility, with Madison by way of the Central Wisconsin plant site. These ties will involve plant additions at the substation totaling an additional $1.5 million.

Labor Councils In Valley Join National Boycott

GREEN BAY Labor councils throughout Wisconsin's 8th Congressional District have joined the nationwide AFL-CIO boycott against General Electric and G. E. Holpoint products. Plans and guidelines were dropped in the Building Commission's lap Monday. The nearly 150,000 striking workers. Immediate plans include boycott rallies and distribution of boycott pins, bumper stickers and leaflets. Additional plans are anticipated at other meetings now being scheduled and at various rallies taking place in the area. The boycott protests General Electric's refusal to meet with the union and negotiate.

At the meeting was Ronald Scheid, representing the Appleton Federation of Labor Unions.

Building Material Sales Tax Payment Puzzler for State

MADISON (AP) — The question of how Wisconsin will pay the four per cent tax if slapped onto the building materials was pleted before the new tax went into effect Sept. 1, a supplement of two per cent of the construction costs would be allowed. The tax was part of the 1969-71 budget which made it through the Legislature without any Democratic support. Sen. Fred Risser, D-Madison, who brought the subject up to the Republican dominated commission, said tax supplements there is only so much money should be made available to pay the additional cost of building projects may have to be deferred planned before the tax went into effect and the money planned for them used to pay the state tax.

Moms Won't Make Calls For 'Hi-Mom'

The two winners of the "Hi-Mom" calls, sponsored by the Local 5521 of the Communications Workers of America, this year will not be moms.

Lucky, in a recent drawing were Miss Dianne Herwig, 1200 E. Fremont St., who will call her brother, Pfc. Gary Herwig, in Saigon, and Miss Carol Van Roy, route 4, who will call her fiancé, Pfc. James Van Stippen, in Thailand.

In each case, winners of the free calls are asked to contact those they wish to call, and suggest they place the call home on a collect basis.

The union then reimburses the family for the cost of the three-minute call.

According to Gerald Capelle, local president of CWA, the union has sponsored this program for 13 years.

Now Many Wear FALSE TEETH With Little Worry

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass you by coming loose and dropping whenever you eat, laugh or talk? Then sprinkle FASTEETH on your plates. FASTEETH holds dentures firmer longer—holds them more comfortably, too. Makes eating easier. FASTEETH is alkaline. Won't sour. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste. Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly. Get FASTEETH at all drug counters.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Van Dalen was one of a number of area residents to participate in the recent drawing of the "Hi-Mom" calls sponsored by the Communications Workers of America, but she was not one of the two lucky winners. The right slips were drawn by two young women who will call a brother and a fiancé. Holding the box with the slips is Gerald Capelle, president of Local 5521, CWA. (PostCrescent Photo)

Appleton Sergeant Gets 2nd Bronze Star

Army Sgt. Gene A. Patzner, returning home for a 30-day leave, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Patzner, 2443 Hickory Lane, has been awarded his second Bronze Star with V for valor for distinguished service against hostile forces in Vietnam.

Patzner, who also holds the Air Medal and the Purple Heart, was wounded in action after a "display of personal bravery and devotion to duty" described in his Army citation. He has been hospitalized eight weeks at Ft. Ord, Calif., and is

Mr. and Mrs. Cy Berg, 208 Idlewild St., Kaukauna, have received word that their son, Thomas, has been promoted to radar man 3 C. by the Navy. He is aboard the aircraft carrier USS Constellation, which has been on active duty with the Seventh Fleet off the coast of North Vietnam. Berg has been named "sailor of the month" in his division for outstanding service.

Airman Ronald C. Vander Zanden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Vander Zanden, 519 Park Ave., Little Chute, has been assigned to the Tactical Air Command at Shaw Air Base, S.C. He is a 1967 graduate of St. John High School and graduated from Fox Valley Technical Institute.

Scott Hager, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hager, 408 Wood St., has been awarded a commendation citation for service with the 82nd Airborne Division in Vietnam, where he has been stationed the past year. He is an Appleton High School graduate.

Sgt. John M. Wicinske, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Wicinske, 713 E. Harrison St., is on duty with the 4258th Strategic Wing of the Air Force at U-Tapao Airfield, Thailand. He is a 1966 graduate of Appleton High School-West. His wife, Sandra, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kluba, 1410 W. Second St.

Pfc. Craig J. Hauser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence P. Hauser, 1914 N. Superior St., has been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge while serving in Vietnam. The 21-year-old graduate of Savier High School entered the Army in February and arrived overseas in July.

Leo F. Schuch, son of Mrs. Bertha Kempen, Appleton, and Raymond S. Schuch, route 1, Kaukauna, has been promoted to Army Spec. 4 in Germany, where he is with the 36th Artillery. The 21-year-old graduate of Freedom High School was employed by Appleton Coated Paper Co. before entering the Army in May, 1968.

Gary A. Daily, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Daily, 125 N. Bennett St., has been promoted to Army sergeant while assigned to the Fourth Infantry Division in Vietnam. A graduate of Xavier High School, he was employed by Kimberly-Clark Corp., Neenah, before entering service. His wife, Susan, lives at 403 Westfield St., Oshkosh.

Seaman Appren, Richard N. Cotter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Cotter, 233 S. Lee St., is attending the Navy's 18-week Fire Control Technician School at Great Lakes, Ill., Naval Training Center.

Navy Machinist Mate 3. C. James R. Finn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Finn, 211 N. Rankin St., is aboard the aircraft carrier USS Franklin D. Roosevelt which is preparing for deployment this month.

Royals Score 103-101 Win Over Knicks

Chicago Pulls Away Late in Game to Top Phoenix, 109-102

By MIKE RECHT
NEW YORK (AP) — The Cincinnati Royals finally discovered what it takes to beat the New York Knicks; 48 minutes of their best basketball. Not 47 minutes and 44 seconds.

The Royals tried the 47-44 figure a week ago last Friday and the amazing Knicks scored six points in the final 16 seconds for a one point victory that gave them the National Basketball Association record of 18 triumphs in a row.

Fifth in Row Little Chute Beats Irish

FREEDOM — The Little Chute Mustangs, using a zone press to force Freedom into a flock of ball-handling mistakes, drew away after a close first quarter and went on to trounce the Irish, 59-37, in a non-conference battle Tuesday night.

It was the fifth straight victory for the Mustangs. Freedom is now 3-2 for the campaign.

Freedom held the visitors to an early 7-7 deadlock, but the Mustangs scored the next four points for an 11-7 lead that was never to be relinquished. It was 15-10 at the close of the quarter. Little Chute padded its lead in each of the last three periods by outscoring the hosts, 18-9, 12-7, and 14-11. The second-quarter burst put the Mustangs up by a comfortable 33-19 margin at the intermission.

Three Mustangs hit double-figures as Mike Fitzpatrick led the way with 21 points. Steve Mollen lent support with 16 markers, and Bill Fitzpatrick contributed 11.

Bright spots for the Irish were Joe Vandenberg with 19 points and Bob Garvey with 10. Little Chute enjoyed a 22-14 edge in field goals, while Freedom had the better of it at the foul line, making nine of 11 attempts compared to the Mustangs' seven of 15.

LITTLE CHUTE (15-18-12-14-58) Mollen 6 4 1; M. Fitzpatrick 10 1 1; B. Fitzpatrick 6 1 0; Vandenberg 1 0 0; B. Hackel 2 0 3; Pennitts 2 1 2. Totals 26-7-8. FTM—2.

Walt Dixon Will Manage Beloit Team

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs Tuesday named Walt Dixon manager of their Beloit (Wis.) club transferred from Quincy (Ill.) in the Class A Midwest Baseball League.

The Quincy franchise was switched recently to Beloit, making its appearance in the Midwest circuit which also includes Appleton and Wisconsin Rapids in Wisconsin; Decatur and Danville in Illinois; and Quad Cities, Cedar Rapids, Clinton, Burlington and Waterloo in Iowa.

Dixon, 49, managed Quincy for four seasons, including last year when the Cub affiliate finished third in the first-half race and fifth in the second.

President Nixon Congratulated By Paterno

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Penn State Coach Joe Paterno sent President Nixon a telegram Tuesday night congratulating him for winning the Football Hall of Fame's highest honor, the Gold Medal Award.

"We may disagree on your football analysis, but Penn State has no doubt as to who is the nation's No. 1 college football fan," the telegram said.

Paterno, Penn State officials and students had expressed disapproval when Nixon presented a plaque to Texas as the nation's No. 1 college football team.

Raiders Place 7 on AFL's 'Star' Squad

BY DICK COUCH
NEW YORK (AP) — Oakland's explosive Raiders placed seven players, including sharpshooting quarterback Daryle Lamonica, on the American Football League All-Star team selected today by The Associated Press.

Lamonica, who goes into Saturday's Western Division showdown against Kansas City with a chance to shatter the pro season record for touchdown passes, led a five-man Oakland contingent named to the All-AFL offensive unit. Two more Raiders were solid defensive choices on the 22-man squad.

Kansas City took five positions and New York's defending league champs four in the ballot of 30 sports writers and sportscasters—three from each AFL city.

2 to 1 Margin

Lamonica captured the quarterback spot with a 2-to-1 margin over New York's Joe Namath with 27 and outside linebacker Bobby Bell matching Brown's 24 for high in the defensive balloting. Guard Ed Budde, defensive tackle Buck Buchanan and safety Johnny Robinson were the other Chiefs selected.

Clear-Cut Choices

Matt Snell of New York and Floyd Little of Denver were clear-cut choices as running backs. Slender Don Maynard of the Jets beat out San Diego's Lance Alworth, an all-league selection the past six seasons, for the other wide receiver spot and 6-foot-6 Bob Trumpy of Cincinnati took the tight end position.

Denver's Rich Jackson and New York's Gerry Philbin are the defensive ends and Jet John Elliott joins Buchanan as the tackle tandem. Nick Bounie, traded from Boston to Miami last spring, is back in the middle linebacker spot after missing out last year for the first time in five seasons.

Houston's George Webster is the other outside linebacker and Buffalo's George "Butch" Byrd completes the defensive cast at cornerback.

Center Jim Otto, making the squad for the ninth time in 10 pro seasons, guard Gene Upshaw, tackle Harry Schuh and wide receiver Fred Biletnikoff were the other Oakland offensive selections. Cornerback Willie Brown and safety Dave Grayson represent the Raiders on the defensive unit.

Kansas City had two of the top three vote-getters, offensive tackle Jim Tyrer leading the gun over New York's Joe Namath with 27 and outside line-

Lauds Texas' Example Nixon Probably Won't Attend Any Bowl Tilt

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon, who created a tempest among other contenders by naming Texas the No. 1 college football team, probably will play it safe and not attend any of the bowl games.

This was the word of associates who accompanied the chief executive to New York Tuesday night to receive the National Football Foundation's Gold Medal Award for his contributions to the sport.

"The President probably will be impartial and stay at home, juggling the television dials," a friend said today. "He hasn't said positively yet, because he loves football so much."

"But while he was sitting on the dais, people kept coming by and asking him what Jet he was going to. A Penn State man asked if he would be at the Orange Bowl. He said, 'no.' Another asked about the Sugar Bowl, and another the Cotton Bowl. They got the same response."

"If he happens to be on the West Coast at the time, he might take in the Rose Bowl, but this is very doubtful."

Dallas Best Offensively Vikings Pace NFL In Total Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — If the yielding but 108 yards a game team statistics mean anything, through the air. Dallas has generated the most offense, averaging 365 yards a game, and also is tops in running (the ball with a 167-yard average) and 25-yard touchdown passes to the Cowboys lead one individual defensive category, with only 74 yards a game against them on the ground.

49ers Lead Passing

The only team statistic in which the Vikings or Dallas do not show the way is pass attack. San Francisco leads in the air with 227 yards a game although the Los Angeles Rams passes have produced the most touchdowns, 25.

Los Angeles leads the "sack" quarterback "race" with 48, followed by Dallas, 47, Minnesota, 45 and Detroit, 41.

Report Clay, Frazier May Duel in Tampa

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Mike Malitz, head of Sports Action, Inc., arrived here today, lending support to the report that Tampa is in line to host the proposed Cassius Clay-Joe Frazier heavyweight championship fight. Malitz' firm specializes in boxing shows and it is expected to handle the multi-million dollar televising of the Clay-Frazier match.

The Bluejays of Menasha have the best scoring average in the M-E (67.5), but were dealt a setback by Kaukauna last weekend. A win over the Raiders or the Raiders could be just the tonic bout. "It looks like Tampa is needed to put the Jays in the thick of the conference race the rest of the way."

Two Rivers is averaging 61.3 state of Florida.

"I would like to see it accomplished," said Kirk. "He (Clay) lost his title legally, not by fisticuffs."

Stockbridge Shaded by Elkhart Lake

ELKHART LAKE — The Elkhart Lake Resorters overtook Stockbridge in the last quarter to deal the Indians their fourth straight loss, 53-49, here Tuesday night.

Stockbridge held a 19-14 edge at the end of the first period and hiked its lead to 31-24 at halftime. However, the home club rallied to within 40-37 by the close of the third period.

The Resorters (2-3) finally caught up at 45-all in the waning minutes, and then Chuck Chappell, who led the winners with 14 points, hit a pair o buckets to put Elkhart Lake ahead for good.

Jim Mayer and Andy Hemaue shared Indian scoring laurels with 16 points apiece and Jerry Morose added 11.

Stockbridge plays its next game Friday night at home against Oostburg.

Tennessee Wins Duquesne, Louisville Quints Upset Victims

By KEN RAPPOPORT Associated Press Sports Writer

Duquesne traveled hundreds of miles to get upset . . . but Louisville never had to leave home.

Seventh-ranked Duquesne and 11th-ranked Louisville were among college basketball victims on Terrible Tuesday Nebraska, hosting Duquesne at Lincoln, whacked the Dukes 82-77 and Dayton decked Louisville 72-56 in the Cardinals' nest.

The beatings of the ranked teams Tuesday night continued an upset trend since the season's opening gun last week.

South Carolina, the nation's No. 1-ranked team in pre-season polls was among the more noticeable victims—losing to Tennessee 55-54 last Saturday night. Purdue, Marquette, Colorado and St. John's of New York have been other top-ranked victims.

Strong Defense The unranked Cornhuskers, winning their first four games since 1919, used a strong defense and 26 points from the free throw line to undermine the Dukes.

Marvin Stewart scored 18 points for Nebraska and LeRoy Chalk added 17. Duquesne lost high scorer Mickey Davis, who had 17 points, and Barry Nelson, on fouls.

Dayton took charge of the tempo of the game, forcing nine minutes before the half and Louisville to play slowed-down basketball, as the Flyers nailed the Cardinals.

Dayton trailed 29-28 at the half, but behind the rebounding 100-87 of Ken May and George Janky, the Flyers pulled ahead early in the second half with their stall-ball tactics.

Dayton took the lead for good at 36-35 on a 12-foot jump shot by guard Jerry Gottschall with about 17 minutes left in the game.

Tennessee Wins Ranked teams followed form in the night's other contests as ninth-ranked Tennessee defeated Centenary 66-62. 14th-ranked Purdue smothered Butler 100-64 and 18th-ranked Jacksonville annihilated Mercer 100-64.

Deadly Don Johnson fired 26 points, all from long range, as the Volunteers outdueled Centenary. Tennessee sprinted to an early 23-17 lead and appeared to be enroute to an easy victory when the scrappy visitors fought back to within 33-31 at the half. Then Johnson's second half baskets helped closed the door on Centenary.

Purdue whipped Butler despite the loss of Rick Mount. The high-scoring star left the game with about seven minutes remaining in the first half with a bruised knee after scoring 12 points.

Seven-foot Artis Gilmore scored 34 points to lead Jacksonville over Mercer. Mercer led the first ten minutes, but the Jacksonville moved ahead 25-24 nine minutes before the half and went on to dominate the game.

Louisiana State, behind Pistol Pete Maravich's 43 points, bombed Loyola of New Orleans 100-87.

PACKER POTPOURRI

Booth Lusteg is a mild mannered, former high school teacher who is seldom heard to raise his voice.

But the heavy footed easterner, the Packers' new placement specialist, is not a man easily turned aside.

Just ask Pat Peppier, the Pack's personnel director, or his opposite number with any of a dozen other pro football teams.

When Lusteg was cut by the Pittsburgh Steelers during the exhibition season this year, which the former University of Connecticut athlete admits was hardly a new experience, he didn't permit it to sway his confidence.

Lusteg, who has a positive philosophy about such misfortunes, says, "Each time I've been cut, it's made me try harder to improve. It's actually been a beneficial thing to me. I don't think I would be as good a kicker as I am if it hadn't been for those disappointments."

Booth, previously dropped by the Buffalo Bills and Miami Dolphins, thus reacted to his latest release by bombarding pro football clubs with letters, telephone calls and telegrams.

"I sent out about 25 letters and about a dozen telegrams," Lusteg confides, adding, "I sent 'em to every club except those I'd been cut by. I have copies of all of them."

When these didn't bring prompt results, he accelerated his program via the telephone.

"So I called George Wilson, coach of the Miami Dolphins, and asked if he would do me a favor and call Coach Bengtson. He called Coach Phil and he told Wilson that the Packers had just signed a kicker -- that was Rick Duncan.

"I got a letter from Pat Peppier about a week later, in which he said he would certainly consider me if they decided to make a change. I was happy that I'd heard so I called him to thank him. We were just going to hang up when he said, 'Wait a minute, Coach Phil is right here.'

"Pat came back on the line shortly and said, 'He wants to know how long it will take you to get ready to come up here for a look-see.'"

Lusteg laughed as he recalled, "I said, 'Three minutes' ... And that's about all it took."

Thus far, Lusteg's Packer efforts have been largely confined to kickoffs, which have been generally impressive, although he did launch an ill-fated 47-yard field goal attempt in Cleveland last Sunday.

Boyd Dowler, the Packers' new holder, took responsibility for that one, explaining he had bobbled the pass from center.

"It didn't make too much difference a n y w a y," Booth philosophically observed. "We needed touchdowns, not field goals."

Brillion at Denmark

Co-leaders Freedom, Omro, and Winneconne will go after their third straight Little Nine Conference victories Friday night, and harring upsets of major proportions, should get them and stay on top of the heap.

For one advantage, all three of the circuit's unbeaten quintets are at home for their league clashes. And second, none of triumvirate will be meeting teams which appear strong challengers.

Freedom, following 82-62 and 78-63 romps over Hortonville and Hilbert, respectively, meets Hortonville a second time on the Irish' court. The Polar Bears evened their record at 1-1 last week by dumping Denmark, 83-63.

Top Offensive Pace Omro, the league's top offensive club with an 87.5 scoring average, entertains Shiocton (1-1) -- a team which the Foxes slammed, 87-67, in the opener for both schools. The Chiefs nudged Brillion, 68-67, in overtime a week ago.

Winneconne, pressed hard before slipping past Reedsville, 60-59, in its most recent start, should have little trouble with Wrightstown (0-2) if things go as expected. The Tigers have incurred 68-55 and 68-47 bickings from Hilbert and Omro, respectively. Winneconne won its first start, 71-36, over Denmark.

In toss up battles Friday, Reedsville (1-1) journeys to Hilbert (1-1) and Brillion (0-2) visits Denmark.

Heading into this week's action, Omro's Larry Dobberstein bosses a conference individual scorers with a 25-point average. Shiocton's Al Kettner is runner-up with a 22.0 mark, followed by Omro's Randy Wade, 21.5; Brillion's Bob Behnke, 21.0; and Hilbert's Terry Albers, 20.5.

ARD Holiday Sports Slate Scheduled

The Appleton Recreation Department's holiday sports program will get under way Saturday with preliminary free throw contests.

Entries for various basketball, dodgeball and kickball tournaments must be submitted to the ARD (1205 W. Prospect Ave.) by 5 p.m. Friday.

Free throwing preliminaries -- for fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, and ninth grade and high school levels -- will be held Saturday at these gyms: Roosevelt, Richmond, Foster, Lincoln, Jefferson, Madison, Huntley Highlands, McKinley and Edison. To enter, youngsters should report to the gym nearest their home. The city finals will be held Dec. 20 in the Jefferson gym.

Boys cage tourneys will be at the fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth grades and high school levels. Tourneys will be held during the Christmas vacation.

Girls basketball tourneys will be for seventh and eighth graders. Dodgeball and kickball meets are planned for girls in the fifth and sixth grades.

For fifth and sixth grade boys, dodgeball tournaments are planned.

Football and Single Girl Change in 49er Front Office Would be Good, Says Elinor

BY ELINOR KAINE

The 49er braintrust would be doing football such a big favor if they sold themselves to one of football's most frugal front offices, a musty, dusty, old-fashioned set-up that can't take its fist off the purse strings or its eyes off Oakland Oakland attendance goes up, San Francisco's goes down.

The San Francisco front

office is ostentatious proof that the gods protect the helpless ... and if the gods don't, Pete Rozelle does.

When quarterback John Brodie signed with Houston and later, after the 1966 merger, held out for a million dollars in Hawaii the NFL decided to help out poor San Francisco. They all chipped in to help pick up Brodie's giant tab. (Brodie reported late and had a hum year.)

During merger negotiations the 49ers were so uptight over Oakland's success across the bay that they had a myriad of details into the AFL-NFL shotgun wedding; picky little things like the Raiders couldn't change their uniform colors (to 49er red?) and the Raiders couldn't play the Rams more than once every four years, so as not to usurp the grand Ram-49er rivalry.

And, then, just to prove that the gods were watching, the 49ers were given $10 million worth of payola, by the luck of geography, for waiving their divine right to northern California football and agreeing to merge, Oakland or not.

Into The Act Again

Now the 49ers are getting into the act again. They're holding up re-alignment and were persnickety fly in the ointment at Rozelle's pre-Thanksgiving meetings. It is generally decided that the NFL, like the AFL, will realign into three divisions -- one of five teams and two of four. In the midst of all the finagling and back biting -- Green Bay, Chicago and Detroit want to oust "the expansion team," Minnesota, from their division and want to add a warm-weather city ... no one wants to align with Dallas ... everyone WANTED Atlanta and New Orleans, pretending it was warm weather and not expansionitis that made the Falcons and Saints so desirable.

The 49er wanted to keep their traditional rivalry with the Rams but didn't want either the Vikings or Cowboys. They preferred the Saints and Falcons, hoping for some victories. It is Lou Spadia's brilliant decision that only wins will draw crowds to 49er games. But then Atlanta beat the 49ers, not once but twice. There's a loulou for poor Spadia, who now doesn't know what he wants.

This is the crucial year for the 49er franchise. Next year they are moving into Candlestick Park which, though only 10 years old, required $9 million worth of re-decoration. The 49ers will have a new stadium, one without gulls and the subsequent jokes; they will still have a top QB, Brodie, who is rich and already 34; they have a good coach and excellent draft prospects, with extra draft picks for George Mira, Howard Mudd, Walter Rock, and probably Clifton McNeil. All they need is new management, that will spend some of all that loot. Bring on O. J. Bring on Bobe Hope.

New Eagle owner Leonard Tose must have flunked geography or else he needs a new map. "I won't play without New York and Washington," said multi-millionaire Tose on the subject of realignment. "I'm in favor of an Eastern five. It seems so natural to add Atlanta and St. Louis.

GTOs Unbeaten in Boys Bowling Loop

Jim Loth and Jim Gladstetter topped the National League, of the Appleton YMCA boys bowling program, with a 196 game and a 319 two-line set, respectively. Jeff Meyer paced the American circuit, with a 259 series.

The Monza GTs lead the National loop by one game over the Mustangs. The GTOs (12-0) retain the only perfect record in the American circuit and lead by three games.

Opera Buff May Get To Use Tickets Yet

It's Possible Metropolitan to Open Short Season Around Christmas Time

By MARY SCHURZ
NEW YORK (AP) — Slacks of unused tickets for the 1969-70 Metropolitan Opera season gather dust in a desk drawer of cosmetics maker Charles Revson, one of a legion of opera buffs that has been wondering whether the curtain ever will rise again.

Now, with a contract settlement possible as early as Monday, the Met hopes it may be able to present an abbreviated season beginning around Christmas. The opera company's $45 million house failed to open in mid-September.

The delay was caused by the management's decision not to begin rehearsals until agreement was reached on all labor contracts. The unions, which had not called a strike, termed this decision a "lockout" and stiffened their demands.

The orchestra voted Wednesday night to accept the first three years of a four-year management proposal and the artists' union negotiators followed suit Thursday. The stagehands negotiate today. Choristers and dancers will try to settle on Monday.

The contract now proposed by management would, over three years, raise weekly pay for musicians from $260 to $325; soloists without individual contracts from $325 to $375; chorists $194 to $250; and dancers from $140 to $215.

Management estimates that the increases offered would double last year's operating deficit of $3.5 million. Much of the deficit is picked up by the opera's approximately 800 private and corporate patrons.

Many patrons, including some who give many times the minimum $1,000, prefer to remain anonymous. More than 115 companies and foundations patronize the opera starting at $500 for foundations, $2,500 for companies.

Even with a contract settlement, the comments of one patron suggested that not all the Met's problems would be over. George Delacorte, arts patron and Dell Publishing Co. chairman, said, "I think this will make a lot of people hesitant about putting more money into it. There comes a time when you say, 'Enough!'"

The patrons had reason for cheer when General Manager Rudolf Bing began this week trying to reassemble Met stars and talked of a possible Dec. 29 opening with Leontyne Price in "Aida."

"It's a sad thing for one of the most important cities in the world—and certainly the center of important activities in the world—not to have an opera house," said Revson, president of Revlon, Inc.

Music Hall Dedicated to Americana

BY TV SCOUT
8-9 Channel 5 — Television displays another of its unique oddities with tonight's excellent edition of The Kraft Music Hall. Perhaps the most successful host for this series has been tonight's star, Johnny Cash, who did so well that he got his own series on ABC. That summer weekly feature in January and where do you think ABC has spotted it? Why right up against Kraft Music Hall, of course.

Tonight's show is dedicated to Americana, with Johnny using the poetry of Carl Sandburg to set the stage. He also brings on special guest star Peggy Lee (she sings "Is That All There Is") and young Browning Bryant.

8-9:45 Channels 11-9 — Before the movies gave us the likes of "De Sade," the most fiendish adaptable author was Edgar Allan Poe and the Vincent Price thriller, "The Pit and the Pendulum," was one of the best. The Wednesday Night Movie is a thriller about a man investigating the death of his sister. He goes to Spain where he visits a mysterious castle, abundant with weird characters, mostly insane, unique torture chamber and sinister plots.

6-30-8 Channel 5 — Tim Matheson has been getting heavier roles on The Virginian and tonight he gets practically the whole show. It's a good one, mainly because of the characterization by guest star Burr De Benning as a crafty conman who separates young Jim Horn from his money.

6-30-7:30 Channels 2-7 — Country-Western music is that musical hallmark tonight beginning with The Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour. Glen's guests are lovely Michele Lee, Rich Nelson and George Lindsey, who has a great time just chatting with Glen about the "folks back home."

7-30-8 Channels 11-9 — Pete Dixon (Lloyd Haynes) is faced with worst dilemma a teacher can have on Room 222. A student has become infatuated and is plotting to take him away from Liz. What's worse, she wins the initial round, making a play for Pete and also making him believe she's closer to 25 than her real age, 17.

7-30-8 Channels 2-7 — If there is a bigger swinger than Jethro on The Beverly Hillsbillies, it's Allen Poe and the Vincent Price Shorty (Sug Fishery). He swings thriller, "The Pit and the Pendulum," so much that Granny decides he's a bum. The has to go. But banker Drysdale Wednesday Night Movie is a thriller about a man investigating the death of his sister. Case Continued After Appleton Man Pleads Guilty to 2 Charges

Kevin Forster, 22, 603 E. Fremont St., was freed on a $200 signature bond Monday after pleading guilty to two charges brought Oct. 1 after he threatened his estranged wife and shot a gun near her home.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schafer continued Forster's case for review to Feb. 13.

Forster was charged with making an annoying telephone call to his wife and with disorderly conduct.

Appleton police apprehended him the night of Oct. 1, shortly after he fired a shot near the home where his wife was staying in Kaukauna. Police found a .25 caliber pistol in his car. They said he earlier threatened his wife over the telephone.

Forster, in October, committed himself to Winnebago State Hospital and court proceedings were continued. He was returned from the hospital Dec. 5.

Actress Arlene Dahl Marries for 5th Time

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Arlene Dahl has married for the fifth time. The bridegroom Sunday was Rounsevell W. Schaum, chairman of Western Video Industries, Inc.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale at Marble Collegiate Church.

It was the second marriage for Schaum, 37.

Miss Dahl, 40, previously was married to Lex Barker, Fernando Lamas, Christian R. Holmes III and Alexis Lichine.

AFL Pushing, Scoring Titles Up for Grabs

Post Holds Slight Margin Over Nance; Turner, Stenerud Duel

NEW YORK (AP) — San Diego's Dickie Post, driving for his first American Football League rushing title, leads two-time winner Jim Nance of Boston by 28 yards going into the final weekend of the regular season.

Post has gained 767 yards on the ground, to 739 for Nance, according to weekly AFL figures released today, while four other ground gainers are within 106 yards of the lead.

Matt Snell of New York, 691; Floyd Little of Denver, 677; O. J. Simpson of Buffalo, 670, and Mike Garrett of Kansas City, 670, each has an outside shot of overtaking Post and Nance.

Even tighter, however, is the scoring race, with New York's Jim Turner holding a one-point edge over Jan Stenerud of Kansas City, who set a pro record of 16 consecutive field goals without a miss last Sunday by booting five against Buffalo.

Turner has 120 points on 50 field goals and as many extra point kicks. Stenerud has booted 27 field goals and converted after 38 Kansas City touchdowns.

Oakland's Daryle Lamonica leads the passing derby with 210 completions for 3,114 yards and 33 touchdowns—three short of the pro season mark shared by George Blanda and Y.A. Tittle.

Lance Alworth of San Diego grabbed the receiving lead with five catches against Boston for a total of 57, four more than Denver's Al Denon.

Rookies Bill Thompson of Denver and Carl Garrett of Boston top the punt and kickoff returners, respectively. Kansas City's Johnny Robinson and Emmitt Thomas share the interception lead with Oakland's Dave Grayson at eight apiece.

fense. Five others were second team picks in 1968.

Kansas City's Tyrer, Bell and Robinson each was named for the fifth straight year, teammate Buchanan for the fourth.

Maynard, a 32-year-old veteran of 12 pro seasons, is the oldest player on the squad and Upshaw, 23, the youngest. All the first team picks have been in the league at least three seasons except Trumphy, a second-year man with Cincinnati's 1968 expansion club.

The Western clubs landed 15 first-team spots to seven for the East. San Diego West and Boston East were shut out.

Roger Emrich, who has been finding the strike zone with consistency in the past several weeks, came through again Tuesday night with a 267 game in the Major League at Hahn's Lanes.

Dan Mittag and Al Gast also took a share of the league honors as they tied for high series with 648 counts. Emrich finished with 637. Gast had a 234 game with his series and Mittag jolted a 257 line.

The South Side Athletic Club team, which took three games from the leading Rietz Super Club squad, had a 1,048 high game total.

Other high scores from the Major League included Al Laux 613, Mike DeBroux 593, Phil Kurzweski 583, Dave Gruendel 577 and Bud Stach 236.

Bob Ross had 4635 series to set the pace in the Tri-City Men's League at Sabre Lanes last night and Al Gresl was next while Larry Wichman had a 591 in line with a 621. Doug Crane had a 587 total.

Carter Faces Horn Sunday

successive assignment against the Pack.

Horn, of course, is expected to be GM-Coach Phil Bengtson's nominee, although there is an outside possibility that Bart Starr will be returning to action.

In making his announcement, Dooley said Carter "earned another shot with his performance in San Francisco."

The ex-Brigham Youth athlete completed 31 of 49 passes against the 49ers for 301 yards and two touchdowns.

"We watched the offensive films . . . and Virgil did a very fine job," Dooley said. "He made several good drives, he kept the team rolling, and it wasn't until the later part of the game that he allowed the three interceptions."

"You can't pin the blame on him for the interceptions, because by that time we were trailing and he was trying to play catch-up. For three quarters, he did an exceptionally good job."

Dooley indicated that Carter will not only start but go all the way, observing, "We don't want to put any pressure on Virgil. We don't want him to feel that the first mistake he makes he gets yanked."

Horn, who is expected to make his third consecutive start, says he has forgotten all about his brilliant effort in last season's finale against the Browns.

"Last year was last year," he notes with eminent practicality, "thereby consigning that one to history."

Not Satisfied
Concerned at this point with the immediate future, the former San Diego State sharpshooter says he has not been satisfied with his performance since taking over for the injured Starr.

"I hoped that we would win a lot more games than we have, so I have to feel I didn't do too well," Horn said. "Why that is I couldn't tell you."

The pass protection, he added, has hardly been a factor in the attack's season-long problems.

"The offensive line has been the big surprise on our whole offensive team, in fact," he said. "It was the big question mark when the season opened but, in the end, they're the ones who are doing the job."

Like many of his colleagues, Horn can offer no explanation for the Pack's inability to score.

"There are a lot of reasons, I guess. "We haven't been the luckiest ball club in the world, for one. And we haven't been able to come up with the big plays, the third down plays."

"It's frustrating personally, and team-wise . . . We've got great personnel—there's no reason why we shouldn't be winning."

"After making this assumption, then you ask yourself why you're not and you can go into lots of ifs and whys . . . But who can pinpoint any one and say that is the one which is responsible."

"But there is one thing I do know. I can see no place for us to go but up. We're as low as we can go — we're on the bottom as far as I'm concerned."

"With the personnel we've got, I can see nothing but great things ahead for this team next year and in the future."

Pick Walter Bylewski President at Ridgeway

Mittag, Gast Hit 648

Roger Emrich Cracks 267 in Major League

Derrald Contardi slammed a 232 game and Herb Westphal had a 609 series to share honors in the Appleton Coated Paper Company League at the Super Bowl. Contardi finished with a 585 series and Westphal had a 577 series.

In the Monday Major League at the Bowling Bar in Kaukauna, Karl Frank hit a 589 series and Roy Nagan rolled a 582.

At Kimberly, Wayne Kilsdonk and Reggie Ahrens blasted games of 253 each and Bob Breier had a 626 series to lead the American League at Jerry's Lanes.

Kilsdonk finished with a 598 series, Ahrens had 584 while Arnold Tennerman hit 593 and Dave Williamson had a 225 game and 575 series.

The Continental League at Jerry's Lanes was paced by Jim Bolduan game and 587 series while Larry Wichman had a 591 in line with a 621. Doug Crane had a 587 total.

tried again, this time for 48 minutes—barely—and stunned the Knicks 103-101 at Madison Square Garden for their first victory in four tries against the Knicks this season. It was only the third defeat in 29 games for New York.

"This is as good as we can play," said a happy Bob Cousy, the Royals' coach, "and that's that it takes to beat the Knicks."

Elsewhere in the NBA: Philadelphia crushed Los Angeles 123-99. Chicago tripped Phoenix 109-102. Atlanta edged San Francisco 117-115 and Seattle turned back Detroit 109-104.

In the only American Basketball Association contest, Carolina stopped Dallas 122-117.

Oscar Robertson led the Royals with 31 points while Bill Bradley and Walt Frazier each had 23 for the Knicks.

Archie Clark scored 30 points and Hal Greer 23 and led Philadelphia to a 91-76 lead after three periods. The Lakers, playing without injured Jerry West, never threatened.

Haskins Gets Hot

Clem Haskins, hitting for 13 points in the final quarter, shot Chicago from an 81-81 tie to a 96-86 lead that subdued the Suns. Bob Love scored 33 points and Jerry Sloan 26 for Chicago.

Walt Hazard converted a pair of free throws with 21 seconds to go to give Atlanta its winning margin over San Francisco. Lou Hudson was high for the Hawks with 31 points while Nate Thurmond topped the Warriors with 34.

Bob Rule scored 16 of his 36 points in the final period in Seattle's victory over Detroit. Jimmy Walker led the Pistons with 33.

Voters Approve FVTI Bonding by 3-1 Ratio

Only Calumet, Shawano
In Nine-County District
Opposed $6 Million Issue

A $6 million bond issue to construct the Fox Valley Technical Institute (FVTI) was approved 3-1 Tuesday by the voters of Vocational, Technical and Adult Education District 12 (VTE-12).

The vote in the special election was 12,527 for bonding and 4,722 against. A few precincts in the district had not reported their votes yet this morning.

VTE-12 officials estimated that there are about 170,000 registered voters in the district. Tuesday's vote represented about 10 per cent of that figure.

In a breakdown by the nine counties in the district, Calumet County opposed the issue, with a 442-593 vote, as did the small portion of Shawano County, with a 28-69 vote. Calumet is one of the four major counties in the district.

7-1 Vote

Outagamie County, however, voted almost 7-1 in favor of the bonds, with 7,634 casting yes votes and 1,286 no. Winnebago also approved it with 3,477 to 2,019, as did Waupaca with 1,462 for and 787 against.

The district includes most of Outagamie, Waupaca, Calumet, and Winnebago counties and portions of Brown, Manitowish, Shawano, Waushara and Portage counties.

Brown approved the issue 12-3; Manitowish, 2-0; Portage, 1-0.

Two Attorneys In Calley Case To Go to My Lai

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Army attorneys for both sides in the case against Lt. William L. Calley will go to Vietnam in January to conduct their own on-the-spot investigation of the alleged My Lai massacre. Army sources said Tuesday night.

The sources said the trip by the prosecutor, Capt. Aubrey W. Daniel, and Maj. Kenneth Raby, Calley's military defense counsel, will be made about Jan. 1. They said the two will return "in time" for a Jan. 20 hearing at Ft. Benning on a defense motion to dismiss charges against Calley.

Calley is charged with murdering 109 Vietnamese civilians in the My Lai raid of March 16, 1968, and with slaying another Vietnamese civilian six weeks before the My Lai incident.

The Jan. 20 hearing before the military judge in the case, Lt. Col. Reid Kennedy, is for presentation of arguments on a defense motion charging that Calley could not receive a fair military trial because of publicity and because of prejudicial statements by President Nixon and Secretary of the Army Stanley Resor.

Kopechne Autopsy Request Refused in Pennsylvania

WILKES-BARRIE, Pa. (AP) — A judge refused today to order an exhumation and autopsy on the body of Mary Jo Kopechne, the 28-year-old secretary who died last summer in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's automobile.

Judge Bernard C. Brominski of Common Pleas Court said testimony at a hearing on the petition by a Massachusetts prosecutor supported the original finding—death by drowning.

The decision clears the way for a Massachusetts court to hold a secret inquest into the accident. Kennedy's car pitched over a bridge and into a tidal pond at Chappaquiddick Island off the Massachusetts coast in the middle of the night on July 18.

Victory for Parents

The ruling was a victory for Mary Jo's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Kopechne of Berkeley Heights, N.J. They opposed an autopsy on grounds it would be "grossly offensive and prejudicial to their wishes."

"This means that I'll come up not an absolute bar to an exhumation and autopsy," Brominski said he took into consideration the parents' objections.

Loopholes in Draft Lottery to be Plugged

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has ordered a study of loopholes that could turn the new draft lottery system into a giant chess game with unmanageable pawns.

A White House source said staff members of the National Security Council, Defense Department and Selective Service have been asked to consider whether the acknowledged loopholes in the system "will be a real problem and, if so, what to do about it."

The most obvious loophole allows a deferred man, in some cases, to choose the year he is exposed to the draft—presumably a year when his lottery number is unlikely to come up—by deliberately dropping his deferment in that year.

Hershey Aide

Col. Bernard T. Franck, an aide to draft Director Lewis B. Hershey, said some of the Selective Service System's legal experts think a college student, for example, could drop his student deferment simply upon his own request, while remaining a student.

But Franck said he did not know whether this interpretation had ever been put to the test.

And even if it holds up, he conceded, it would not prevent a man from dropping his deferment by actually dropping out of school or quitting an essential job.

Possibilities "They are kicking around a number of things," the White House source said, of the loophole study, "of which that is one."

Still another flaw is the reverse case of a man classified I-A who seeks a deferment when it looks as if his number is getting hot. If he gets the deferment—and the local board may have no choice if he qualifies—he leaves the draft pool.

He would not be exposed to the draft again, White House and Selective Service sources agreed, until he once more entered the I-A pool.

Franck said a local board could prevent a man from jumping in and out of I-A at will by refusing, somewhere along the line, to reconsider his classification.

Play the Numbers

But even with that limitation, some draftable men may try to "play the numbers," as draft-minded authorities now phrase it.

When President Nixon last month established the lottery system based on birthdays drawn at random, a White House fact sheet estimated about half the available men would be dated in 1970. Because of differences between local boards, each applying the lottery list to its own draft pool, the actual numbers reached will vary.

The White House offered, cautiously, a rule of thumb: Among the lottery numbers ranging from one to 366, men in the low-school pupils in the northwest section of Miami, where seven cases have appeared since October.

Diphtheria is caused by a germ almost everybody normally carries in his mouth, but which only occasionally causes the disease. An antitoxin often given in infancy provides complete protection.

"We have a definite outbreak and it is serious, especially when you consider this is the first time since 1962 we have had more than three cases," said Dr. Milton Saslaw, acting director of the Dade County Health Department.

Diphtheria wiped out thousands in Western Europe and the United States prior to 1890, when the German bacteriologist Emil von Behring developed the first antitoxin.

In addition to the two children who died, an 8-year-old boy is in critical condition at Jackson hospital. Saslaw said the three had no known contact with each other.

Diphtheria causes swelling of mucous membranes, especially in the throat, which may become obstructed to the point where suffocation occurs.

tain—somehow—about 550,000 draft-eligible men in 1970.

The Pentagon expects 290,000 to enlist voluntarily, leaving 260,000 to be drafted.

If the number of enlistments falls short, the size of the draft must rise, for somehow they have to add up to 550,000.

The number of men needed remains unchanged, and so does the number of men available.

But the question then becomes: From what part of the lottery list will they come?

Men with low numbers, almost certain to be drafted, may enlist instead so they can choose their branch of service; men with high numbers who might otherwise have enlisted, may decide they don't have to after all.

Change Line-Up

Should this occur in large concentrations—in other words, should the enlistment rolls be filled with low-numbered men—those with middle to high numbers could unexpectedly find themselves at the front of the line for the draft.

Add to this possibility the loopholes opened up by the manipulation of deferment status, and you have a whole new chess game—one in which the pawns can choose moves they never had before.

And you have elements of uncertainty never intended by the designers of a plan aimed at ending the "agony of suspense."

The key fact remains, as Nixon intended, that a man who reaches the end of any year in I-A status, without having been drafted, can consider himself relatively safe.

Passage Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The out any changes, would create a deficit of $10.65 billion next year. Kennedy, D-Mass., to allow a tax credit for political contributions. Passage sends the bill to House-Senate conference where the measure's sponsors expect a compromise will be hammered out to remove or modify some Senate riders and thus avert a veto pledged by President Nixon.

Last week the Senate broadened the tax reform bill to include a far-ranging new section increasing Social Security benefits and bringing on the veto threat.

Tuesday Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., sparked the delaying debate when he proposed the trade rider.

Import Quotas

It would authorize the President to impose import quotas against a commodity being shipped into the U.S. if he found it was harming U.S. companies or workers and if the producing country was putting restrictions on U.S. exports.

The amendment is strongly opposed by the Nixon administration Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans urged its defeat in a letter to Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., floor manager here for the tax bill.

The letter said the proposal made no provision for a thorough investigation prior to action by the President.

Cotton said Stans has been talking about voluntary agreements to slow down textile imports from Japan and other nations but has done little about it.

The Senate also shocked tax reform advocates by killing, 65-25, a provision inserted by the Finance Committee to close what its members called a new loophole.

Pension Plans

The committee sought to crack down on a scheme involving pension plan corporations set up by professional men, enabling them to circumvent limitations on tax-free amounts contributed for retirement income.

Marion Youths Die in Freak Road Accident

Pair Killed While Riding on Toboggan Behind Automobile

BIG FALLS — Two Marion teenagers were killed about 9:30 p.m. Tuesday when the toboggan they were riding slid into the path of a car on Waupaca County Trunk E, about two miles northwest of here.

Dead are Gene Arndt, 16, route 1, and William Hilley, 15, route 1, Marion.

A third youth riding the toboggan, James Adelman, 18, route 1, Marion, was taken to Clintonville Community Hospital and then transferred to the da Clark Hospital, Neenah. He was listed in critical condition this morning.

Fourth Youth

A fourth youth, Wayne Helms, 17, route 2, Tigerton, reportedly escaped without serious injury.

Authorities reported the three were being pulled on the toboggan by a pick-up truck driven by Stephen N. Pockett, 18, route 1, Marion. They were traveling north on E.

Ronald E. Christjohn, 27, Tigerton, driver of the car, said the toboggan swerved into his southbound lane after he had passed the pickup. Helms, who reportedly was riding in the front of the toboggan, apparently saw the Christjohn's head-lights and jumped clear, trying to drag the toboggan into the ditch.

Authorities said the toboggan slid into Christjohn's lane as it was going around a curve.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

Record Increase for New London

Budget Asks $11.90 Tax Hike

NEW LONDON — All city property owners can expect to experience about a $11.90 per $1,000 assessed valuation increase in their tax rate if the city's overall budget is adopted at the 8 p.m. Dec. 16 City Council meeting.

Aldermen will have little to say about the overall increase, as only the city operational budget is in their hands.

Outagamie County residents in the city are expected to see a tax rate jump from $63.88 per $1,000 assessed value to $75.77, while their counterparts in Waupaca County's portion of the city are anticipating a hike from $67.42 to $79.32.

New London found itself in the unenviable position of an overall $1,460 decrease in assessed valuation this year. A property had the greatest affect in the valuation.

City valuation for 1969 is placed at $14,391,600, down from $14,393,060. Waupaca County's four wards decreased from a valuation of $10,559,750 in 1968 to $10,395,925.

Outagamie County valuation experienced a modest increase of 45 cents to $1.04, an increase of 58 cents.

A school rate of $42.28 per $1,000, up $6.42, will be needed to raise the New London School District tax levy of $608,487, which is up from $516,136 last year.

VTE-12 tax rate will show a modest increase of 4.9 cents per $1,000 for a rate of $2.17 per $1,000.

Total levy is a record $112,331, up from last year's $956,761, the previous record high.

A New London School district sinking fund and general operation to be a tight city operational increases, county and state operational increases and a massive municipal capital improvement program are re-proposed by the council. The rate would jump to $19.42 to raise $279,463 for city purposes, the decrease in property valuations compared to $226,750 last year.

County, State Levies

City taxpayers will pay the same rate for city, school and Vocational and Technical Education 12 levies, but separate county and state levies.

Established levies in Waupaca County for state and county are $162,864, up from $144,435. The county tax rate will increase $1.18 to $14.45, while the state rate will be up 50 cents to 99.8 cents.

In Outagamie County, the levy jumps to $45,257 from $38,879. The county tax rate will be $10.85 per $1,000, up $1.16, while the state rate jumps from 45 cents to $1.04, an increase of 58 cents.

County Joins Appleton With Endorsement of Joint Safety Building

Construction of an Appleton-Outagamie County safety building moved another step closer Tuesday but supervisors indicated that many questions must be answered before funds are approved for actual construction.

The county board, by a 34-10 vote, approved a resolution identical to one passed Dec. 3 by the Appleton Council in which the two bodies agree to construct, maintain and operate a city-county building.

The resolution would form the first part of a contract between the city and county which would spell out details of the joint venture.

Work Out Details

County Board Chairman Sylvester Esler, Appleton, told supervisors that the resolution must either be adopted or the city be informed the county is not interested.

He said after passage that he would try to get together with Mayor George Buckley and the County Board and City Council committees involved to start Council A. W. Ponath disagreed working on details of the construction and said he doubted that the attorney general's office would tract.

At the same time, the board gave a formal opinion.

Judgment Decision

"They do not like to make opinions on decisions of judgment," Ponath said, "and this is a judgment decision."

A number of supervisors objected to passing the resolution before working out the details of the building, towns of Center and Ellington, said the cart was being put before the horse.

"We must know the other answers first," Supv. Rudolph Spreeman, towns of Dale and Greenville, said, referring to the issues of financing, location and space allocation. He said that he favored a joint building but could not vote for the resolution without first knowing the answers to those questions.

Supv. Jerome Hiler, Appleton, chairman of the board's public properties committee which brought in the resolution, compared the agreement to pie.

"You must decide you're going to bake one before you decide what will go in it," he said.

An effort by Supv. Joseph DeBruin, Town of Buchanan, to substitute the word "plan" in statute which specifically refers to the agreement for "construct, to safety buildings rather than maintain and operate" failed to gain a second

Chain, King Home Dispute Residents Gain Facts, Hope at King Hearing

BY FERN SMITH Post-Crescent Staff Writer

KING — A four-hour legislative hearing on the effects of diverting 11.5 million gallons of water per month from Rainbow Lake for use by the Grand Army Home for Veterans developed volumes of facts, figures and opinions Tuesday from state employees and residents of the Chain O' Lakes.

It also brought two bright hopes into the arena of dispute — the possibility of reform in Wisconsin's law on riparian rights and assurance that in the future, careful tabulation of the long-range effects of continued volume pumping will be made.

However, the 12 members of the Assembly's Veterans and Military Affairs and Conservation committees did not indicate they would take action to stop immediately the pumping of water from Rainbow Lake.

Hearing Overdue

It was a hearing, committee-men agreed, which was 20 months overdue. It was called because of letters from local residents and members of the Chain O' Lakes Taxpayers Association and state Director of Veterans Affairs John Moses' interest to learn what led to opening the new water plant in July.

Testimony on the effects of drawing large quantities of water (estimated to be 11.5 million gallons per month when the home reaches 1,500 members) was given by Louis Posekany, limnologist with the State Department of Natural Resources. He was called in when the project was more than half done he said.

Posekany said he was re-

Pumping Affects Chain O' Lakes

KING — The Chain O' Lakes is a large reservoir of water, an exposed supply of the vast amount of ground water in the area which has a natural movement through the lakes, according to state water resource engineers and a specialist which testified at the legislative hearing Tuesday.

"This water flows from the recharge area to the northwest, with a natural movement through the lakes and down the Crystal River," according to C. L. Holt Jr., of the U. S. Geological Survey.

The rate of flow is 23 cubic feet per second and the amount of water the Grand Army Home for Veterans is drawing from the lake reduces the Rainbow Lake volume at the rate of .7 cubic foot per second.

Irrigation Wells

"The flow at Indian Crossing does not mean too much, viewed in the light of the amount of water flowing through the lakes," Holt reported.

"Summer rainfall has little to do with the amount of water available; the snows in winter and rain in early spring contribute more to maintaining the level of the lake.

"Irrigation wells now pump several times more water than the maximum volume of 11.5 gallons per month that the home is contemplating using," he continued.

A well at the home placed 100 feet from the lake would draw water from the lake, and if this well were placed 1,000 to 3,000 feet from the lake, the effect of pumping would be minimal.

Septic Systems

"The ground water moving from the northwest also transports any materials, nutrients and materials from malfunctioning septic systems into the lake," Holt explained.

The ground water is reported to move slowly, and Rep. Francis Byers wanted to know if the taking of large amounts of water from Rainbow Lake would endanger the quantity and quality of the water.

Holt answered that it would have a relatively small effect on the hydrological health of the lake.

The quality of the water in the lakes appears to be quite another matter.

Studies made of the quality of the water showed pollution created by an increase of nutrients in the ground water.

The state has been studying the lake's chemical makeup since 1907. A year of accelerated study was made prior to the time the home began pumping through its new water treatment plant in July.

According to Louis Posekany, Department of Natural Resources, since the pumping began in July, the surface water of Rainbow Lake had 50 per cent less transparency. The summer bloom could have been from some other cause than pumping at King, Posekany said. His department, he said, is now making a monitoring study of the lakes which will give them more pertinent facts.

"I would have recommended that water not be taken from Rainbow Lake if consulted at the beginning," Posekany said.

Two-Day Event Chilton Snow Festival Planned for February

CHILTON — The Jaycees have completed plans for the first Chilton Snow Festival, Feb. 7 and 8, featuring many races and competitive events.

On Saturday there will be judging of the ice and snow sculpturing throughout the city.

City, Town Consolidation Pondered

GREEN BAY — City and Town of Neenah officials, along with consolidation study committee members, walked away from a meeting here Monday with guarded optimism about the success of a similar merger in Neenah.

They heard three key men outline what happened five years ago when the Town of Preble and City of Green Bay merged into a single municipality.

Donald Vanderkelen, John Rose and Frank Euclide all played important roles in bringing about the first major consolidation in the state.

Vanderkelen is the city public relations representative; Euclide, the city director of public works, and Rose headed the Green Bay Citizens' committee which pushed for consolidation of the two municipalities.

"We can't even remember that we were ever two municipalities," Vanderkelen said.

The merger came after a new Preble town board had been elected on a consolidation platform. "The consolidation talks started about 10 days after the election," Rose recalled.

"The talks included the detailed negotiations between city and town departments on each phase of municipal operation," Vanderkelen added.

Despite Appearances, the Seymour High School roof is not being used as a helicopter landing zone. It is, however, the scene of a project unique to this area. Ten heating and air conditioning units, valued at a total of $100,000 and weighing about 5,000 pounds each, are lifted in separate trips and positioned on the roof of the high school addition this morning. The firm of Carson Helicopters, Inc., Perkasia, Pa., was hired by August Winter & Son, Inc., Appleton, the heating and air conditioning subcontractor on the $1.7 million addition, to place the units on the roof. It took about five minutes per unit but would have taken days with a crane, a Winter spokesman said. The addition, designed by Schutte Mochon, Inc., Appleton architects, is to be completed by September. (Post-Crescent Photos by Ralph Acker)

Hilbert Board Acts

Low-Rent Housing Is Approved

HILBERT — A low-rent housing project for the elderly was approved Tuesday night by the Village Board. The vote was unanimous.

Action came after several informational meetings and discussions with officials of Brillion, which has a completed project. Last month the board put off action until had learned if the village was financially obligated in any way.

At the next meeting trustees will recommend a five-member citizen committee to make the application for the federal program this committee will handle all arrangements for the proposed project. No village board member is eligible to serve on the committee according to rules governing a low rent housing project.

The village does follow state housing codes but must initiate zoning, which will be done through the aid of Calumet County planner, Roland Tonn. No expenses beyond updating codes will be required of the village.

President Orville Manz explained the need for the program in the village and the enquiries he had received from elderly persons. He said he believed many of the homes now occupied by older persons, who would be eligible for a low rent housing unit, would be filled with young couples with families.

Brillion Approves New Squad Car

BRILLION — The purchase of a police squad car from Horn, a police squad car from Horn, according to a letter read from Ford, Brillion, for $1,290 with him. Twenty-nine corrections trade was approved by the City, have been made, he said.

A representative of the city will attend a Jan. 12 meeting in the Appleton concerning proposed three bids received. Others who air pollution rules, it was decided on the 1970 vehicle were cited.

Mayor Clarence Wolf will represent the city at a meeting concerning the substitute Tar Task Force proposals in Green Bay Wednesday.

The city affairs committee will meet with representatives of St. Mary Catholic parish concerning an open drainage ditch on the playground. It is expected that the ditch will be filled as a safety measure.

City Clerk Elen Radloff reported receipt of $44,096 income tax apportionment.

Esler Will Attend Welfare Session

Outagamie County Board Chairman Sylvester Esler of Appleton, will attend a conference on welfare programs called by the Milwaukee County Board for Dec. 17 at the Milwaukee County courthouse.

Esler said the county social services director, Alfred Egbert, and one or two other board members may accompany him to the conference which was called to consider recommendations for changes in the present state and federal programs.

Recommendations from the National Association of Counties (NACCO), which held a similar conference in Washington several weeks ago.

Lower Rate Offered

Hilbert Considers New Ambulance Service

HILBERT — An ambulance provide lower rates He said service contract $118 a year less that because he was in private than that being offered by business, bills for clients not Calumet County Ambulance paying were his responsibility. Service, was offered to the Debts are prorated to all communities, with the county service.

Before taking action on the matter, the board appointed telephone service soon to be available between Brillion and get the opinion of the local Hilbert, and with his rates he doctor.

The contract the village now has expires Dec. 31.

He explained that he offered the same qualifications and equipment as offered by Calumet Memorial Hospital at Chilton. Patients had their choice of hospitals, he said. He quoted $20 for individual calls to Chilton, compared to $25 for the Chilton ambulance. Accidents he said were $3 more. Prices to Appleton and Manitowish hospitals were quoted at $25, to Kaukauna, $20 and to Green Bay, $30.

Wellington noted that because "we do it ourselves, we don't have to pay for a man to take care of it" enabling him to
